LONDON, Aug. 3.—On the heels of disclosure that the German Port of Hamburg has been razed and 100 other German cities violently attacked by the Royal Air Force, Nazi planes today bombed various areas in England, Scotland and Wales, with particular emphasis on the Bristol channel area.

One German raider scattered forty incendiary bombs and several high-explosive missiles on working-class districts in Wales. Many fires were started and considerable damage done. An official announcement stated that bombs were dropped on north-eastern Scotland, the English midlands, southeast England and the Bristol channel district.

It asserted, however, that no substantial damage was caused except around the Bristol channel, where bombs fell on a residential district, damaging a church, a school and other buildings. Casualties resulted from the raids, the announcement added.

More Raiders Appear

Later in the morning another batch of German planes appeared over southeastern England.

Says Japan Looks Forward To 'Emancipation' Of Dutch Far Eastern Possessions

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Aug. 3.—Gen. Kuniaki Koso, Japan's new special envoy to the Netherlands Indies, informed the world today that Japan looks forward to "emancipation" of the Dutch far eastern possessions along with other oriental areas.

The envoy remarked that Japan "must risk friction with the United States" in seeking fulfillment of Tokyo's aims in the Far East.

In a frank statement to newspaper correspondents, Gen. Koso said:

"The Netherlands Indies have been exploited and oppressed for a long time as a foreign colony . . .

"Emancipation of the oriental peoples is destined to be carried out by every means."

"Oil, rubber and tin produced there (in the Netherlands Indies) provide a world market. Japan has no intention of monopolizing these products, but feels it is necessary to seek a fair distribution."

"In so doing we must risk friction with the United States."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Welcoming the support of former Secretary of War Woodring, senate isolationists organized today for a bitter fight against President Roosevelt's military conscription program.

Reminiscent of the successful fight against the president's supreme court enlargement bill, Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont. again assumed leadership of the opposition.

Wheeler, senate isolationist leader, called an organization meeting of the many senators opposed to compulsory military training for Monday, the day the senate begins debate on the president's request to mobilize the national guard.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The navy high command believes that Japan would last only three weeks in a war with the United States, it was learned authoritatively today.

It would require only three weeks, the admirals are convinced, for the navy to vanquish the Japanese sea forces, after which Japan would either have to capitulate or be faced with slow starvation by blockade.

The U. S. fleet was in position to "surround and demolish" Japan's navy less than three months ago, according to information obtained by International News Service.

(International News Service)

VICHY, France, Aug. 3.—Although frequently warned by Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and his ministers that they must suffer the consequences of defeat, Frenchmen today for the first time felt the full weight of the restrictions under which they appear destined to live.

Regulations were imposed on France equal to those borne by the Germans during the years preceding the war, when Germany was preparing for its military conquests.

Under these restrictions, French now are forced by law to "go without" in order that the nation may live through the coming winter.

Body Of Model Found In Pool

New York Medical Examiners
Report Death Is Due To Drowning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Ellen Logge Nash, 27-year-old beautiful blonde model, whose nude body was found last night in the swimming pool of Neil Reed Andrews, wealthy cosmetic manufacturer, died of "asphyxiation due to drowning," medical examiners ruled today.

Police, who were summoned by Andrews after he found the body floating on the surface of the pool shortly after 6 p. m., applied artificial respiration for an hour and a half but were unable to revive the girl.

Miss Nash, accompanied by Vicki Grey, was staying at Andrews' Manhattan estate as a week-end guest. According to Andrews both girls had been cruising with him in Long Island Sound, and had returned to the ground for a swim before dinner.

Police were told that while Miss Grey was searching for bathing suits, Miss Nash apparently slipped in the pool beyond her depth.

The model, who had previously been married and divorced, was planning to remarry a young man from her home town, Keyser, W. Va., within 10 days. Police announced that the girl's mother, Mrs. Mary Davis of Keyser, would leave shortly for New York.

TO HUNT GROUNDHOGS

Ralph Pitzer, aged 46, of R. F. D. No. 2, Wampum, World War veteran was instantly killed when struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train, mid-way between Wampum and Koppel, last evening. Death is believed to have occurred at 8:23 p. m., as Pitzer's watch stopped at that time. His body was dragged around 50 yards by the engine and badly mangled.

The body was discovered this morning at 5:45 o'clock by Clarence Daugherty, who was on his way to work.

Pitzer took his rifle and left home about 5:15 o'clock last evening to hunt groundhogs near the quarry of the Ellwood City Stone Company, and was seen in Koppel between that time and the hour of his death. Daugherty who discovered the body notified a train crew who called Sheriff M. M. Ingham, who in turn notified Coroner T. F. Nugent, and the county officials went to the scene to investigate.

The body was placed aboard a train and brought to Wampum.

Pitzer served with the Headquarters Company, 332d Infantry, which contained a number of New Castle men, during the World War. He had been employed on the WPA.

Ralph L. Pitzer was born December 14, 1893.

Surviving are his wife, Sadie; five children, Albert, Inez, Gaynelle, Dorothy and Ralph, Jr., all at home; his mother, Mrs. Mary Pitzer of Pittsburgh; two brothers, David, of New Castle, Arthur of Pittsburgh, and three sisters, Mrs. Esther Johnson, of Detroit, Mrs. Dorothy Kuhn of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Eleanor Parker, Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Marshall funeral home in Wampum on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

While Britain and Germany relentlessly hammered at each other's shores with devastating aerial attacks, Japan moved closer to Axis powers today, as momentous diplomatic moves in the Far East brought the greatest tension in months.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi in Tokyo hinted that Japanese foreign minister Yosuke Matsuoka may be sent to Rome and Berlin to negotiate a strong entente with Germany and Italy. The rest of the Japanese press hinted at swift reprisals for the arrest of prominent Japanese business men in London, and military leaders readily expressed willingness to risk friction with the United States over control of the fabulously rich Dutch East Indies.

As Germany claimed extensive damage to vital British military objectives on the heels of British claims of having won the vital port of Hamburg, London saw a new climax in British relations with Japan as inevitable after the arrest of at least two prominent Japanese.

New Democratic Chairman

Rep. Halleck

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Republicans opened fire today on appointment of Edward J. Flynn of New York as chairman of the Democratic national committee to succeed Postmaster-General Farley.

Rep. Halleck (R., Ind.), who placed the name of Wendell Willkie in nomination for the Republican presidential candidacy, declared that Flynn's election "is in keeping with the character of the big-city machine support that was chiefly responsible for giving Mr. Roosevelt the alleged draft nomination at Chicago."

Halleck charged Flynn with appointing Arthur (Dutch Shultz) Flegenheimer, slain gangster, as a deputy sheriff when he was sheriff of Bronx County, and observed that the new national committee chairman was city chamberlain of New York under Mayor James J. Walker, an administration that smelled so high to heaven that Mr. Walker resigned and made himself a temporary expatriate abroad.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—Seven armed British merchant vessels, totalling 56,118 tons, were sunk by a lone raiding German submarine and three British planes were shot down in air battles and by anti-aircraft batteries, the high command announced today.

The official announcement claimed that British planes bombed military objectives in north and western Germany, destroying apartment houses and killing and wounding several civilians.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A new climax in relations between Great Britain and Japan appeared inevitable today with disclosure that two prominent Japanese have been arrested in London under somewhat mystifying circumstances.

When the arrests were first revealed, informed quarters said the two men had been taken into custody under British defense regulations.

Later, however, it was understood reliably that no defense regulations but Britain's aliens' law was invoked in carrying out the detentions.

Report More Arrests

Unofficial reports said that a third Japanese had been arrested in London and several at Singapore.

Italian Report

(International News Service)

ROME, Aug. 3.—Widespread and damaging bombing raids by Italian planes in the holy land and Africa were announced today in the Italian military bulletin, which stated:

"A fire started at Haifa (Palestine) by a recent bombardment is still burning after three days."

"Sudan railroad equipment at Port Sudan was bombed as well as a warehouse and aviation field at Gebel, where 10 planes on the ground were seriously damaged."

"In Kenya near Buna concentrations of troops and mechanized equipment were bombed and machine-gunned."

"In North Africa enemy planes raided Bardia, causing slight damage and a few casualties. An enemy raid on the airfield at Cagliari resulted in one person killed and three wounded and caused slight material damage. Two enemy planes were brought down and the crew of one machine was taken prisoner."

While Britain and Germany relentlessly hammered at each other's shores with devastating aerial attacks, Japan moved closer to Axis powers today, as momentous diplomatic moves in the Far East brought the greatest tension in months.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi in Tokyo hinted that Japanese foreign minister Yosuke Matsuoka may be sent to Rome and Berlin to negotiate a strong entente with Germany and Italy. The rest of the Japanese press hinted at swift reprisals for the arrest of prominent Japanese business men in London, and military leaders readily expressed willingness to risk friction with the United States over control of the fabulously rich Dutch East Indies.

As Germany claimed extensive damage to vital British military objectives on the heels of British claims of laying waste the vital port of Hamburg, London saw a new climax in British relations with Japan as inevitable after the arrest of at least two prominent Japanese.

An official statement by the Japanese embassy in London expressed

Republicans Open Fire Upon Flynn

New Democratic Chairman
Draws Attack From
Rep. Halleck

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Republicans opened fire today on appointment of Edward J. Flynn of New York as chairman of the Democratic national committee to succeed Postmaster-General Farley.

Rep. Halleck (R.), Ind., who placed the name of Wendell Willkie in nomination for the Republican presidential candidacy, declared that Flynn's election is in keeping with the character of the big-city machine support that was chiefly responsible for giving Mr. Roosevelt the alleged draft nomination at Chicago.

Halleck charged Flynn with appointing Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Fliegenheimer, slain gangster, as a deputy sheriff when he was sheriff of Bronx County, and observed that the new national committee chairman was city chamberlain of New York under Mayor James J. Walker, an administration that smelled so high to heaven that Mr. Walker resigned and made himself a temporary expatriate abroad.

Republican Leaders In Conference

Martin Meets With Willkie

Plans For Campaign Are Being Developed In Parley In Colorado

OUTLOOK IS FINE FOR G. O. P. VICTORY

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 3.—Chairman Joe Martin of the Republican National Committee, opening conferences today with Wendell Willkie, the party nominee for president, indicated that there are no major organizational problems to be solved if there is to be unification of effort in the campaign.

Martin's most significant statement was that "Republican clubs are working in harmony with the Republican organization" but that Willkie clubs are "running their own show."

He offered it not as criticism but merely as comment when asked how the various units of the Willkie strength were cooperating.

Headquarters in Washington

His second significant statement was that John D. M. Hamilton, his predecessor as national chairman and who was retained as executive assistant to please the Landon forces on the national committee, was "temporarily in charge" of the Chicago office but that the main office of the campaign would be in Washington.

The previous impression had been that Chicago would be headquarters for the campaign with Hamilton's appointment as officer-in-charge, definite and permanent.

He indicated that the party expects that Democrats opposed to President Roosevelt's re-election such as the group to be headed by Lewis W. Douglas and John W. Hanes "will do their own work."

Getting right down to the basis of how Willkie is faring at the moment, Martin hit a more positive note.

"Things look extremely satisfactory," he said. "I believe the trend will increase. The campaign is not really under way yet and the real drive will come after the acceptance speech but I believe that we are already ahead of four years ago."

Martin was eastern campaign manager for Alf Landon in 1936. As to the business he, with other officers of the committee, will conduct here, Martin said:

"We will begin to talk about how the campaign is to be conducted and of course we've got to set up the budget."

Earlier, Willkie announced that a nation-wide drive to organize Democrats for his campaign would open on August 6 with Douglas and Hanes as its leaders. Douglas was director of the budget in President Roosevelt's first administration and Hanes was under-secretary of the treasury.

FRANCE TO BAN FREE-MASONRY

(International News Service)

VICHY, France, Aug. 3.—Free-masonry in France will be banned by a new law forbidding secret societies, it was learned today.

A decree to that effect will be published immediately, outlining statutes which were voted secretly before being publicly proposed and which specify the Grand Orient of France and the Scottish Rite, the two most important secret societies in the nation.

PRESIDENT'S BREAK WITH JOHNSON MAY BE POLITICAL WAR

ler endorsed Johnson and praised his generalism in direct conflict with the president's opinion. Wheeler said:

"Hiram Johnson did more to carry the west for Mr. Roosevelt with his great speech in 1932 than any other man I consider him one of the great liberals of the country. Indeed, he is not only a great liberal but a great statesman."

"Whether one always agrees with him or not, Hiram Johnson is the type of independent thinker who is honest, able and conscientious, that we need in the United States senate. Of course, if to be termed a liberal, one must be 100 per cent for whoever may be in the White House, then Hiram Johnson is not a liberal."

Greatest Issue

"The greatest issue before the people today is to keep our country out of war and prevent conscription, which is not only illiberal but undemocratic and smacking of totalitarianism. Most real liberals today are opposed to both—to war and to conscription. And I understand that Hiram Johnson is opposed to both."

The Roosevelt-Johnson story forms a curious page of American political history. In 1928, Johnson endorsed and supported his fellow Californian, Herbert Hoover, for the presidency. After Hoover entered the White House, he fell out with Johnson.

In 1932, Johnson abandoned his party, broke openly with Hoover and endorsed Roosevelt for the presidency. He campaigned the west for the Democratic ticket. After Roosevelt won, he offered Johnson a cabinet post, but the Californian declined while endorsing Harold I. Tamm for secretary of the interior. Tamm got the post.

First Coolness

In 1934, Roosevelt endorsed Johnson for re-election to the senate and the senator won overwhelmingly. A year later, Johnson led the senate's successful fight to reject American adherence to the world court, a step asked by Roosevelt. This developed the first coolness between the president and Johnson.

In 1937, Johnson was a leader in the senate's rejection of the president's proposal to enlarge the supreme court.

That fight apparently ended their friendship.

Now the president is seeking Johnson's defeat for re-election to the senate. After his own primaries are over, Johnson can be expected to seek Mr. Roosevelt's defeat for re-election to the presidency. Politicians in both parties will be watching Johnson, recalling that a slight to him in 1916 is credited generally with having cost Charles Evans Hughes the presidency.

JAPANESE ARE HELD IN LONDON

as "flabbergasted" by these developments but expressing hope that a satisfactory settlement would be reached.

The statement added that the Japanese ambassador is making "vigorous inquiries."

Early in the afternoon the Nipponese envoy, Mamoru Shigemitsu, went to the foreign office to make his inquiries and, it is understood, to lodge a "strong protest."

Japs To File Protest

It was announced that the Japanese embassy will file a protest against detention of the two men. The embassy is looking into rumors that still other Japanese are being held at Singapore.

Authoritative circles confirmed that the pair had been arrested a few hours after the London Daily Sketch and the London News Chronicle charged that a Nipponese sabotage ring is operating throughout the empire "to the detriment of Britain."

The newspapers indicated that still further arrests are expected shortly. One of the Japanese held is Satoru Makihara, London manager of one of Japan's greatest export-import houses.

British police searched Makihara's home but seized nothing.

With unflinching diplomatic suavity, authoritative British quarters asserted that detention of the two Japanese "merely coincided" with arrests of Britons in Japan. They said the London arrests were "in no way in the nature of retaliation" against seizure of British subjects in Tokyo and other Japanese cities under suspicion of espionage.

Alien Registration To Start Here August 27

Registration of Lawrence county aliens will commence August 27 at the New Castle and Ellwood City post offices and will continue "until the job is done," Postmaster William R. Hanna, declared this morning.

Hanna said he had no instruction on the registration plans as yet and knew only what he had read in the newspapers.

"We don't have much of it," he explained. "But we understand what the work will be, and we're preparing for it. We'll start along with our office August 27."

Part of the alien population will be registered in Ellwood City and part of it here. There will be but two post offices in the county for the undertaking.

Hanna expects the fingerprints will be the biggest part of the job. He said plans for handling it have not been worked out. Some of the postal staff will probably be enlisted though to perform part of the work.

BOMB ATTACKS MADE BY NAZIS, ALSO BY BRITISH

loved claims in London that day and night British bombings have "pulverized" Germany's chief seaport of Hamburg and damaged military objectives in more than 100 other Reich cities and towns.

Before dawn enemy planes appeared over a town on the south-east coast of Scotland where an entire salvo of bombs exploded, followed by another single explosion.

Anti-aircraft batteries blazed at another raider over the northeast coast of England and a British fighting plane chased the German craft to sea.

Still another German plane jetted its load of bombs into the sea to escape the attentions of a menacing British fighter.

During the night German planes flew over virtually every sector of England and many parts of Wales, and some dropped bombs on south-eastern districts, where heavy explosions were heard.

Shipping Attacked

German aircraft attacked shipping off the southeast coast and spurts of water were seen rising around the vessels as the Nazis dropped their bombs. Later two raiders were caught by searchlight beams and driven off by anti-aircraft guns aboard the ships.

Meanwhile British authorities charged that three German planes last week bombed and machine-gunned a lightship tender off the coast, wounding some of the 69 lighthouse men aboard the vessel. The bombs, however, did not hit the tender.

An official announcement stated that the mighty British air offensive against Germany's war machine continued relentlessly with new raids against Reich objectives, including the huge Krupp armaments plant at Essen, the Bremen harbor, the Focke-Wulf aircraft plant, scores of airdromes, canals and railways.

Indicating a new British raid on New York reported that the Bremen radio station suddenly ceased broadcasting and had not resumed operations at an early hour Saturday.

Kentucky Voters At Polls Today

Ballot For U. S. Senator, Congressmen And Lesser Offices In Primary

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 3.—Kentucky voters went to the polls today to cast their primary ballots for Republican and Democratic nominees for U. S. senator, congressmen, and a number of lesser offices.

Heading the list of Democratic candidates was U. S. Senator A. B. Chandler, seeking re-nomination for the post to which he was named to succeed the late Senator M. M. Logan. The senatorial term will expire in 1942, when Logan's six-year term of office would have ended.

Chandler, at his home in Versailles today to vote, made but one speech in behalf of his candidacy, promising support of national defense measures and pledging his allegiance to the Roosevelt administration.

Chandler's principal opponent today, was Charles P. Farnley, Louisville attorney.

Supporters of five Republican candidates for the senatorial nomination appeared to be Walter B. Smith, Pineville attorney, who had the support of the state G. O. P. organization.

amazement at the arrests and added the Japanese ambassador is "making vigorous inquiries."

Formal Protest

London, Aug. 3.—The Japanese embassy today made formal protest to the British government in the case of two Japanese nationals arrested in London under defense regulations.

But, as Great Britain's newest diplomatic tussle with Japan approached still another climax, the embassy categorically denied foreign press reports that a formal protest had been lodged.

Openly deploring the measures which resulted in the arrest of the two Japanese, the embassy declared it was "most untimely when the Far Eastern situation seems to be straightening out." Both the men arrested, the embassy said, were intelligent and respectable beyond all doubt.

While the British foreign office reiterated that the arrests were purely concerned with national defense and were not in retaliation for seizure of British nationals in the Far East, the Japanese embassy checked reports of still another arrest in Singapore.

Japan More Defiant

Tokyo, Aug. 3.—Adopting a more defiant attitude toward Great Britain and the United States, Japan today moved for closer relations with the Axis powers to support its plan for political and economic hegemony in the Far East.

With its military leaders expressing willingness to risk friction with the United States over who shall dominate the Dutch East Indies, and its press warning Great Britain quick retaliation may follow the arrest of Japanese businessmen in London, the Nippon empire, according to the newspaper, the Nichi Nichi, is considering a strong political entente with Germany and Italy.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka may be sent to Berlin and Rome to negotiate such an agreement, which would call for close cooperation between Japan and the Axis powers in the establishment of a new world order, the paper said.

Negotiate With Axis

"As one of the first steps in its new policy," the Nichi Nichi added, "the government obviously contemplates in the near future negotiations with the Axis powers on questions of mutual cooperation in world affairs."

Premier Konoze and other leading men in the government already are considering the date for the beginning of such negotiations.

The Nichi Nichi's disclosure that the government may soon seek a strong political pact with the Axis powers and Russia followed quickly in the wake of a statement by General Kuniaki Koiso, the newly appointed special Japanese envoy to the Netherlands East Indies, that emancipation of the Oriental peoples was destined to be carried out by every means.

"The Netherlands" Indies have been exploited and oppressed for a long time, as a "foreign colony," he said. "The oil, rubber and tin produced there give it the nature of a world market. Japan has no intention of monopolizing these products, but it feels it necessary to seek fair distribution of such products, even if by so doing it must risk friction with the United States."

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Louise D. Dietz

After a three months illness, Mrs. Louise D. Dietz, aged 59, passed away Friday at 9:10 p. m. at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. E. Barker, 139 1/2 Park avenue. She had resided with Mrs. Barker for the past eight years.

Mrs. Dietz was born in Pittsburgh on May 8, 1881, daughter of Fred C. and Mary Ann Kuntzer Dreier. She had spent some time in Erie before coming to this city and was a member of the Zion Lutheran church of Erie.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. C. M. Short of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Barker of this city, and two brothers, L. W. Dreier of East Liverpool, O., and Henry Dreier of Pittsburgh.

The body will be removed from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, to the Barker home late this afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Monday morning at 10 o'clock the funeral party will go to Erie where interment will be made in Erie cemetery.

Hill Funeral.

Funeral services for Richard Hill, Morehead avenue, were conducted Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Hoover Heights Gospel Tabernacle by Rev. F. R. Schillinger, the pastor in charge.

During the services, two appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. Louis E. Vogie and Ruth Vogie, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Anderson.

Palbearers were Howard Sharp, Frank Walker, Stewart Walker, William Main, John Mitchell and William Walker.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Wagner Funeral.

Funeral services for Frank Wagner, 1113 Moravia street, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Baptist church with Rev. Mrs. G. M. Walker, of St. John United Holy church, in charge. She was assisted by Rev. J. S. Walker, Rev. C. H. Watson and Rev. C. L. Alexander.

Selections were sung by the senior choir and junior chorus of St. John church.

Palbearers were Ned Hardney, Thomas Keys, Rufus Bradshaw, Emory Maddox, Eugene Cummings and James Brown.

Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Nord Funeral.

Funeral services for Peter B. Nord were conducted from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bloomer, 1014 West Washington street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Raymond Touvel, pastor of the Bessemer Presbyterian church in charge. He was assisted by Rev. Henry Bruen, Presbyterian missionary to Taku, Korea, a relative of the deceased.

Palbearers were Walter Nord, Carl Nord, Albert Hedberg, James Kane, Francis St. Clair and Gustaf Hedberg.

Interment was in Castle View Burial Park.

Mrs. Van Dyke Funeral

Regular high mass for Mrs. Stanley Van Dyke, 831 Croton avenue, was celebrated this morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Joseph's church with Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra as celebrant.

Palbearers were Clyde Reed, Joseph Cardell, Bertram Sisley, Edwin Preston, Edmund A. Whiteman and Gordon Martens.

Rev. Fr. William J. Erkens conducted the committal service at the grave in St. Joseph's cemetery.

sive tickets—having been the choice of all three parties in 1934 with the president's personal blessings.

Johnson's Reply

With the controversy rapidly taking the shape of a new political war, Johnson today issued this reply:

"Mr. Roosevelt's carefully planned and affectionate (?) attack is no surprise, but in fairness he should have stated that all of the candidates for United States senator, and there are five of them, under the California law, as they have the right to do, are running on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

"My real acquaintance with Mr. Roosevelt began when I fought for him in 1932. Had I followed him in his attempted packing of the supreme court, in this twisted and American deeds leading us down the road to war and dictatorship, I would have been a perfect liberal and progressive, and what glory would be mine!

"My record of 30 years is open for everyone to read. It is my treasure. No man, however exalted his position, shall, with impunity, attack it.

"The people of the state of California would not highly regard me, and I would be without self respect were I a mere 'yes' man. I never have been and I never will be.

"I make no issue with the president upon matters of opinion, but I insist on matters of fact that the record shall be kept straight.

"This is just the same old purge; and same old sham expressions of regard and affection, the same old stiletto."

FORMER WAR SEC. IS OPPOSED TO CONSCRIPTION MOVE

Wheeler said the bipartisan bloc opposed to conscription will meet to schedule debate, and "outline the battle" in advance of senate consideration.

Wheeler denied rumors that the bloc planned to filibuster against the conscription bill, but indicated that its members are prepared for lengthy debate. Wheeler predicted a protracted struggle over the compulsory military training program as the senate military affairs committee, heading down attempts to further restrict the program, planned to report the legislation to the senate Monday.

Believing that President Roosevelt's reassertion yesterday that he wants some form of conscription, blocks all attempts to compromise the issue, the opposition bloc is prepared to "fight to the limit," Wheeler said.

Condemn Peace Time Plan

They will adopt as their program a counter proposal by Woodring in a letter to Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., condemning peace-time conscription.

Declaring bluntly that voluntary enlistment has not been given a chance, Woodring proposed that the enlistment period in the army be reduced from three years to one, and that enlistment may be increased from $21 to $31 per month.

Administration leaders, meanwhile, admitted that the Woodring letter might bring strong opposition to the president's program, but were confident some form of conscription legislation will be approved at this session of congress. They hailed support by Sen. Glass (D) Va., often a bitter critic of presidential policies, said.

"In every intention at the present time of supporting any reasonable selective service measure."

Johnson Opposed

On the other hand, Sen. Johnson (R) Calif., who heretofore has remained silent on the issue, joined the opposition. He asserted he is ready to oppose any form of peace-time conscription, but said he would not oppose mobilization of the national guard.

"A man who joins the national guard wants to become a soldier," he said.

Sen. Hill (D) Ala., warned that unless conscription legislation is passed "we might as well haul down the American flag and give it to Hitler."

There was no organized opposition to mobilization of the national guard. Senate Majority Leader Barkley predicted debate would not last more than two days.

No Need of Conscription

Woodring, whose retirement from the cabinet was attributed to his reported refusal to approve the president's military aid-to-the-allies program, said:

"I cannot see the need of compulsory military training at this time, and I should like to see the bill amended so that it does not become effective until, and after, the chief of staff of the U. S. army has first advised the senate in writing that the voluntary system has completely broken down."

Shortly after the president repeated his request for conscription, the senate military affairs committee refused to limit to 1,000,000 the number of men between the ages of 21 and 31 liable for one year's military training. The war department estimated the 21 to 31 age bracket contains 12,000,000 men.

NAVY OFFICIAL AND BRIDE TO LIVE HERE

Of interest to New Castleites, is the wedding news received today, telling of the marriage of Miss Clara Mae Wivel, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Wivel of Pittsburgh, and Chief Fire Controlman, of the United States Navy, John J. McElwee, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McElwee of Philadelphia, who is stationed in New Castle, as recruiting officer.

The ceremony took place on Monday morning, July 29, at 8:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church, with Rev. Leo Sullivan, officiating as nuptial high mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert H. Hussing, was attended by her sisters, Mrs. John F. Brucker as matron of honor, and Miss Kathryn Wivel, as bridesmaid.

Supplementing the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception took place at the bride's home, the nuptial motif being used throughout in all details. Immediately following, the couple left on a wedding trip East, and at the conclusion of their journey, will take up residence at 813 Butler avenue, this city.

MARKLEY-BLOOM NEWS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Markley, of 1121 South Mill street, announce the marriage of their sister, Ruth Markley, to Dr. Julius Bloom, of Altoona, son of Mrs. Pearl Bloom, formerly of this city.

The ceremony was performed August 16, 1938, at Temple Beth Jacob, Newburgh, N. Y., with Rabbi Maurice Bloom, brother of Dr. Bloom, officiating.

United Missionary Society

Members of the United Missionary society, Central Christian church, gathered Friday afternoon in the church parlors for their session. Mrs. A. W. Bauman and her committee were in charge, with papers on "Africa" and "I Will Build My Church" as the themes.

Social diversions were enjoyed during the later hour and a light repast served.

W. E. CLUB MEMBERS OUTING AT CASCADE

With perfect weather, the outing held at Cascade Park on Friday evening by members of the W. E. club, was most enjoyable.

At 6 o'clock, an appetizing full course dinner was served, and the hours that followed, were devoted to contests in 500, Ben Hartland, Mrs. Clarence Hollis and Mrs. Emmett Arrow were prize winners. A stroll about the park grounds completed the informal program.

On Friday, August 16, the club will meet for a hamburger fry at Cascade Park.

STREAMLINERS CLUB HAS COTTAGE OUTING

Most delightful in every way was the all day outing at "Sunset Valley" just on the outskirts of New Castle, when the Streamliners club members were entertained at the Sturdevant-Ross cottage in that vicinity, as guests of Mrs. Dennis Sturdevant.

The occasion featured a full course chicken dinner, served at a long picnic table in the shade trees on the spacious lawn which overlooks the running creek. Mrs. Evan Evans aided Mrs. Sturdevant with the serving. A program of sports followed, which caused a riot of merriment, including swimming, boating and contests. Mrs. Virginia Kerber carried off the prize for the "fat" ladies' race. Mrs. Evan Evans won the peanut race. Miss Kate Smith, the pie eating contest, and the special stunt number was won by Thelma Kerber and Sara Clark.

Retreating to more calm pastime afterwards, cards held attention, with honor trophies falling to Mrs. Margaret Anderson and Mrs. Lewis Bush.

Plans were made for a corn and wiener roast to take place August 12 at the same place.

NAVY OFFICIAL AND BRIDE TO LIVE HERE

W. E. CLUB MEMBERS OUTING AT CASCADE

Of interest to New Castleites, is the wedding news received today, telling of the marriage of Miss Clara Mae Wivel, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Wivel of Pittsburgh, and Chief Fire Controlman, of the United States Navy, John J. McElwain, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McElwain of Philadelphia, who is stationed in New Castle, as recruiting officer.

The ceremony took place on Monday morning, July 29, at 8:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church, with Rev. Leo Sullivan, officiating as nuptial high mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert H. Hussing, was attended by her sisters, Mrs. John F. Brucker as matron of honor, and Miss Kathryn Wivel, as bridesmaid. Supplementing the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception took place at the bride's home, the nuptial motif being used throughout in all details. Immediately following the couple left on a wedding trip East, and at the conclusion of their journey, will take up residence at 813 Butler avenue, this city.

MARKLEY-BLOOM NEWS ANNOUNCED

Plans were completed for a corn roast to be held August 14 at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Miller with Mrs. Ida Suber, chairman, in charge. All those planning to attend will meet at the Legion Home at 7 o'clock.

Special guests of the evening were members of the Beaver Falls Auxiliary Unit No. 48. They include Mrs. Leona Chisney, Mrs. Lena Brogius, Mrs. Mary Higgins, Mrs. Beatrice Bewhurst and Mrs. Bertha Clayton.

Following, a social period ensued with a capable committee in charge composed of Mrs. Margaret Bowen, Mrs. Beatrice McNicholas, Mrs. Betty Stoner and Mrs. Tempe Suckie.

Ritz Club

Associates of the Ritz club gathered at the home of Mrs. Frank Boran, Moravia street, Thursday evening.

During the business session, plans were made for a supper to be held at Cascade Park, on Tuesday, August 6.

Contests were played, high score prizes going to Mrs. Anthony Panella and Mrs. James Bongivengo. Mrs. James Bartlett captured the club token.

Later, the hostess, with the assistance of Mrs. Curtis Guckert served a full course chicken dinner.

On August 15, the group will meet with Mrs. Albert DePalmo, of Morton street.

Worthy Mistress Club

Members of the Past Worthy Mistresses club of the Orange Lodge, No. 129, enjoyed a breakfast at Cascade Park, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

A good attendance was present, and Mrs. Helen Catty and Mrs. Lillie McElwaine were special guests.

The next meeting will be held on September 6, at the home of Mrs. Homer Pence, North Beaver street.

McGaffie Reunion

The fourth annual reunion of descendants of Thomas S. and Orline McGaffie will be held Saturday, August 10, at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mounts at Nesbannock Falls.

A basket picnic will be served at 6 o'clock, with sports and games preceding the dinner. The sports committee is composed of Roy McGaffie, Ralph Kneram, John Lee, Jr., and Margaret Miller.

Grand Army Ladies

Ladies of the Grand Army, will meet Tuesday afternoon, in the Modern Woodman Hall, at 2 o'clock for an important session.

Brisco Club

Members of the Brisco club will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Fazzone, Canyon street.

SECRET AIRPLANE SOUND DETECTOR FOR CANAL ZONE

(International News Service)
BALBOA, Aug. 3.—The United States Army's newest and most secret airplane sound detector will be installed in the Panama Canal Zone soon to help make the vital area invulnerable to attack, it was disclosed today.

The detector, it was stated, will be able to pick up the sound and tell the position of airplanes many miles distant. The device is said to be rivalled as a precision instrument only by the famous American bomb sight.

COUNTY FAIR PHILOSOPHY

THOSE who have doubts about the future of the United States and feel the country is headed for the demerition bowwows should take a day off and head for the county fair. They can find suggestions showing the solid foundations upon which this civilization is built.

The county fair may be to a large extent a pleasure gathering. People would not crowd to it as they do unless they had a mighty good time there. But unlike many sporting events, there is a foundation of solid achievement on which the whole show rests. A county fair is primarily a display of farm products. It presents the cream of the output of the surrounding farms, orchards and gardens.

To be seen there is the fruit of toilsome labor, going back many years. Also the fruit of thoughtful study and inquiry of experienced persons. Those noble fat cattle, kings and queens of the bovine world, those grunting porkers that can scarcely waddle across the pen for their heaps of fat, did not grow to their present stature and form by luck and chance. Brains and sweat were spent freely to produce them.

These exhibits show that the American people are not trying to make their living by luck and chance and smart tricks, but that the solid folk on the farms are trying to produce and sell useful products of high quality. In doing so, they encourage others to do likewise.

They demonstrate that the prizes of life are won in the main by merit, rather than by luck, pull, favor or politics. When people get that idea and go back to their jobs they are bound to do better work. It imparts faith in humanity and this country to see these industrious rural folk as with pardonable pride they lead the prize bull into the ring, and arrange those luscious fruits on the exhibition table.

HIGH TIDE OF SUMMER

There is something wonderfully rich in the face of nature as summer draws toward its close. The fields have labored and brought forth to their utmost. Great waving areas of grain smile and gleam in the sun. Heaps of colorful vegetables and fruits appear in the orchards and the gardens, and create pictures more glowing than those produced by any artist.

Flowers of every shade blossom in the home lots and fields. The trees are heavy with refreshing shade. There has been given one more demonstration of the enormous resources of this world.

There is abundance on this globe for all. Only man in his ignorance and his wastefulness and his selfishness, fails to make due use of all this richness, so that there is widespread destruction and famine in Europe.

RAILROAD WRECKS AND "MAN FAILURE"

Man failure—the oftentimes inexplicable tendency of workers to take chances or disobey orders—is not an excuse for accidents, or train wrecks, but merely an explanation of how they are caused. And experience in industry has demonstrated that a good deal of so-called man failure is preventable.

The second grave railway wreck of 1940, with 43 dead in Ohio, takes rank as one of the gravest in railway history and like the New York Central wreck last April this one on the Pennsylvania is blamed on the failure of the crew of a gasoline coach to obey an order to go on a siding and a further failure to obey standing rules against entering the next block without permission.

The railroads, in spite of these tragedies, are still the safest form of transportation. But that record, built through years of painstaking efforts to improve personnel and safety devices, can be marred, perhaps destroyed. Thus the explanation "man failure" even if true cannot be passed off lightly.

COURTING AND MARRYING

The claimed discovery by a Scotch scientist, announced recently, that, contrary to popular belief, opposites do not attract each other in matters of courting and marrying, seems to put an entirely new face on the whole institution of matrimony.

According to this savant, people really are attracted in courting and marrying by those who are most like themselves. If that is true, matrimony at once seems put on a higher plane than it has been assumed to occupy throughout the ages. Humankind's opinion of itself being what it is, what greater compliment could the average person pay his mate than by marrying him or her, as the case may be? According to the Scotchman's theory, marriage really starts off on a basis of mutual admiration even more fundamental and compelling than almost anyone had thought was possible.

What is hard to understand, however, is why, if the Scotchman is right, marriage was so much more stable an institution in those lavender-scented days when the swain was wont to begin the courtship by groaning to himself and others "I'm not half good enough for her." Under the theory of likes attracting likes, he really was setting up the proposition that "She's not half good enough for me," which would seem to have been a poor foundation for matrimonial alliances that, nevertheless, usually lasted at least until the golden wedding.

And why all the divorce mills in this present age, when marriage seems to be so largely a matter of mutual condensation and implies, if likes attract likes, the practical ultimate in mutual flattery?

Some candidate might get votes if he would come out in this campaign for neutral neutrality.

Mosquito census takers are on the job along the Mississippi river. More to the point would be some expert mosquito slappers.

An unsuccessful effort has been made to beat the pony express record from Topeka to Saint Joseph. It seems that both humans and horses have become softies.

A new vote bloc may make its appearance in this campaign. Efforts are reported to be under way to organize the pedestrian vote for Willie, who does not own an automobile.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ARITHMETIC NECESSARY EVIL

"Dear Dr. Myers: On several occasions you have paid special attention to the subject of arithmetic and the different methods by which it may be taught.

"I am now a senior in high school and have never given it much thought. However, since I majored in commercial work, mathematics was not required. Besides it was never my specialty. I don't care for figures and calculating. But I realize that even if I will not need mathematics in my course of life, it is essential to be quick with numbers.

"Perhaps, as you said, I started learning wrong in the first place. I was taught to count with my fingers and now I find I still have to. "Normally I am not a slow person and can usually think fast, but I wish I could improve in arithmetic and could understand figures as quickly as some do. I didn't quite understand the method you prescribed in the paper. I wish you could write me personally on this subject, and maybe help me to facilitate my method of calculating and to be quick in getting answers."

Solving The Problem

My reply: "In your ordinary life's experiences you will constantly need to do some work with figures, and I am sure you don't want to go on counting on your fingers and wasting time in simple everyday calculations. You will need to master the simple fundamentals in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, especially addition and subtraction. Most of all you will need to know by heart the 100 basic addition facts like 5 and 9 are 14 and the 100 basic subtraction facts like 3 from 11 are 8.

"Since you still must count on your fingers you never have learned these simple foundation number facts by heart. You can easily do it now by devoting fifteen minutes an evening to the job. I am enclosing a page with the 100 addition facts and another page with the 100 subtraction facts. Begin with the addition sheet. Memorize 8 or 10 of them at a sitting. Never allow your self to guess or count. Always go back and look at the whole fact such as 7 under 8, a line under that and under the line, 15, and say it over and over whole you look at it. Do it as mechanically as if you were learning to spell biscuit.

"After you know all these addition facts, attack in the same way the sheet of subtraction facts.

Summed Study

"Parents who have a child in grades from 3 to 8 for whom arithmetic is hard should encourage this child to learn by heart all such facts in addition and subtraction he does not already know automatically. Indeed, any child in these grades could afford this summer to check himself on these basic addition and subtraction facts in order to escape a vast deal of annoyances with numbers next year. Any one may have these two sheets by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, N. Y., enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NEW WRINKLES

The citizens of this nation have been building houses—dwellings places, if you will, ever since the first colony of Europeans landed on its shores. They have been building houses of wood, brick, stone, plaster, cement, tile; in fact, out of most of the materials of which they could conceive a house could be built, and each builder has built with the idea of comfort for its inhabitants and durability of the building itself.

In the years that have passed, many new wrinkles have been introduced tending to make living conditions pleasanter. Scientists, architects, engineers, chemists, and what have you, have determined that rays in winter, deflect them in summer, and that walls that absorb sunlight in the day give it off as a soft glow in the darkness. These are some of the things to be expected when people live in plastic houses.

A step in this direction is the plan for molded plastic building blocks made of ethyl cellulose and polystyrene, a mineral oil product. The blocks are one foot square and less than one-eighth of an inch thick, with holes around the edges allowing them to be nailed to a wooden or light metal framework.

Available in many colors, they are designed for both interior and exterior walls, permitting insulation against heat and cold.

No paint, plaster, or wallpaper is needed, and the blocks can be transparent, translucent, or opaque, depending on where they are used. Advantages seen are: Light weight, low fire hazard, no cracked walls—cracks between the blocks are sealed with an elastic caulking—and immunity to decay, disintegration, or insect attack.

This is the last word in building, submitted in the language of the experts of today, and if you are thinking of building, talk it over with your builder.

TRAVELING LIGHT

Along the Way of Life that I must go, Dear Lord,
I would that I might travel light
So my immortal soul may not
Be weighted down till endless day
Succeeds each sleepless, restless night.

Give me the strength to throw away
those useless things
Which cumber life's unending flight:
The two-edged sword of ancient hates
Which cut my heart until I am
Too weak to battle for the right.

My cherished mask of pomp and pride through which my eyes
Cannot behold my brother's plight,
Oh, grant I learn my soul's true
needs,
Then gladly on my Way of Life
I'll run because I'm traveling light.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: Please suggest an appropriate bouquet for the bride, and boutonnières for the men of the wedding party.—E.B.

Answer: The bride who wears a white dress and veil should carry an all-white bouquet. It may consist of white roses, white sweet peas, gardenias, lilies, white orchids and lilies of the valley, white lilacs, or a spray of lilies, tied with a bow of white ribbon. The bride not wearing a veil may carry an arm bouquet or wear a shoulder corsage, the flowers in which should be of a shade harmonizing with her ensemble. The men of the wedding party should wear white boutonnières. The bridegroom's is usually somewhat different from those of the others and it may properly be taken from the bride's bouquet. The best man, the ushers and the bride's father may wear white gardenias or white carnations.

Question: Should personal cards with "sympathy" written on them and sent to a bereaved family be acknowledged? If so, how?

Answer: Indeed, yes, personal cards so superscribed should be acknowledged in the same manner as are letters of condolence—by written note. If you have a great bonnet or wear a shoulder corsage, the flowers in which should be of a shade harmonizing with her ensemble. The men of the wedding party should wear white boutonnières. The bridegroom's is usually somewhat different from those of the others and it may properly be taken from the bride's bouquet. GOING ON DUTY

A young man had been keeping company with the daughter of the house for some months and finally got the father's permission for the marriage.

"I hope you don't mind me mentioning something," said the father, a bit hesitantly. "But seeing you're practically a member of the family now I think it would be all right. Would you go down and tell the cook we want her to get up mornings in time to get our breakfast hereafter?"

A local man who became a papa several months ago has noticed that a baby seems unusually happy the day after the night he kept his parents awake.

We can tell people are getting in their winter coat by seeing the big lumps lying on the streets after the trucks go by. The coat is weighed before the trucks start out.

LOGICAL

"Know anything about cars?"
"Been mixed up with 'em a bit."
"Mechanic?"
"No, pedestrian."

A young lady who was pinched in Pittsburgh for picking the pockets of people attending funerals says she owed money to friends and was trying to get it to pay them back. Some people do seem to try to get money back they borrow, but have queer ways of doing it.

This is the definition of a local lady as to what is a gentleman: "He's a man who would live just as he does now, even if there weren't any laws."

MISTAKEN

"Here, waiter!" exploded the diner. "There's a fly in my soup!"
"A-h-h-h-h," said the waiter, examining the soup. "M'sieur sees mistaken; zat in ze soup ees not a fly; it ees a vitamin bee!"

Mr. Wilkie seems to be attracting a lot of favorable attention from sources he did not expect it. Real Democrats are making no bones about their being for him in every way.

A woman who had another tooth pulled met a friend in the bank. "Goodness!" she said, "have you had another tooth pulled?" "Yes, I have a regular drawing account at the dentist's."

Asked what kisses are good for, Flossie pondered a moment and then said you have to take them at their face value.

To determine what man would be without the influence of women, observe the dirt and whiskers on him after a week's fishing.

The dictator has another advantage. He can hold his job without hiding the fact that preparedness is going to hurt.

Still, we'd still be using kerosene lamps and ox carts if wicked corporations hadn't built things to get our money.

HARD TO PLEASE

This candid camera business is sort of wearing on some prominent people, we hear.

"I want to enjoy a good grouch occasionally," observed one prompt, "but I always have to smile because I never know when one of those danged cameras will click at me!"

But if the fur-bearing chest is proof of malice, phuff goes the theory that Nordics are superior.

A young chap drove up to a toll bridge and as he started to cross the bridge in his auto the toll keeper stopped him. "Fifty cents," said the collector. "Sold," shouted the young leaping out of his car and handing over the pink slip.

If you get a letter from somebody you don't know in Mexico or Cuba, you are on a sucker list.

What's What At A Glance

Exiled Royalty Comes To This Country
Have No Trouble Gaining Admission Now
Canadian Border Restrictions Are Tight

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Exiled European royal personages have been arriving in the United States quite numerous of late. As Germany overruns their various countries they seem to consider this a highly desirable asylum to head for.

I've heard the question raised: Why are these individuals different from any other class of immigrants?

We've been pretty particular about admitting aliens in recent years. They're regulated by quotas. They have to account for themselves strictly. Shortly they're likely to have to register and have their finger prints taken.

But these royalties appear to get in merely by arriving here. They have passports, but that's a mere formality.

American Citizens

Why, American citizens, just back from little auto trips into Canada, have more trouble crossing the border, than these ex-kings, ex-queens, ex-princes and ex-princesses have in landing in our midst.

The Canadian border situation has caused a good bit of kicking lately. A Yankee tourist, returning from the Dominion, doesn't have to have a passport, but he does have to prove that he's an American native. How's he to prove it? With a birth certificate? Ah, but a lot of Americans haven't any. How else then?

Well, one way the immigration authorities employ is to listen to the would-be entrant's accent. However, the American and Canadian accents are hardly perceptibly different. Stumped by this test, the immigration official says, "How do you pronounce the last letter in the alphabet?"

If the applicant pronounces it "zed," in the English fashion, he's barred. If he pronounces it "z," as we do, presumably he's admissible. In parts of Canada, however, they say "z" just like an American. So that doesn't necessarily justify an admission, either.

In short, numbers of perfectly good Americans have been tied up at the border for several days, trying to establish their citizenship. A good bit of howling has ensued.

All Royalty Welcome

But Europe's ex-monarchs don't have to say "z," show finger prints or anything.

They come right in, and welcome. How do they do it?

The story in Washington is that William C. Bullitt, our ambassador to France, now at home, reporting to President Roosevelt, does most of the preliminary fixing for them.

Not that Bill Bullitt is a royalist. He's one of the first families of Philadelphia. He's been ambassador to Moscow, certainly no royalist center. France, his present ambassadorial post, isn't royalist, either. But Bill does not get identified with prominent people. So, when a fugitive king or some such individual applies to him for diplomatic courtesies, Bill attends to 'em for him.

He unquestionably has more overseas royalties under obligations to him than any other American.

Nearly Bombed
When his embassy nearly was bombed, at the time the Germans were over-aviating Paris, Bill didn't under-advertise the incident a particle.

Just now, back consulting with the president, he favors our continued recognition of the Petain government of France—the one that capitulated to Hitler. The Petain outfit at present is engaged in purging ex-Premier Daladier and his fellow members of the French cabinet, for refusing to surrender.

That's all right with Bill Bullitt—he's with the most prominent people available, and Petain certainly is more prominent than ex-Premier Daladier.

There's a certain amount of inconsistency in Bill's disregard of ex-Premier Daladier, while doing so much for European ex-royalty. But that's all right. Royalty, even "ex," is conspicuous to associate with. Daladier no longer has a job to make him count. Petain still is a premier.

I used to know Bill when he was a delegate with Henry Ford's peace party.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FORCE
If the greatest gains be right,
Then this dreadful fact is plain:
Every man must bow to might.
Every dream of peace is vain.

If to force man must submit
And if power makes evil good,
Vain are prayer and Holy Writ,
Vain all hope of brotherhood.

If to numbers truth belongs
And the stronger side is right,
Man must suffer cruel wrongs
For the lack of dynamite.

But no force or tyrant power
Ever raised on land or sea,
Shall for any single hour
End man's love of liberty.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

My friend William Harrison Dempsey, Jack Dempsey to you—has challenged Gene Tunney to fight in Chicago, the town which they practically looted some thirteen years ago. Some folks think, and say, that Mr. Tunney, the contented squire of Greenwich, wants no part of Mr. Dempsey, who has been going around slapping down a lot of push-overs. Not that Squire Tunney is afraid of Mr. Dempsey, because Mr. Tunney, though a cautious and canny man, is a warrior at heart.

And afraid of nothing that breathes the breath of life. It's simply that he's through with a racket he never did like, and won't be dragged back into it.

Mr. Tunney is doing his fighting in the magazines nowadays. He wrote a piece recently in which he knocked Joe Louis flat with a particle and kayoed him with a split infinitive. A lot of people are wondering why friend Dempsey, generally rated as a millionaire, has gone around slapping down muscle-bound wrestlers and the like. The answer is that Mr. Dempsey needs the money. His annuities will not start producing for two years. His bankroll is sunk in his soda fountain on Broadway. He has two charming daughters and belongs to the Alimony Club—one thousand dollars a month. Cash is what he needs and plenty of it, and that is why he has suddenly declared war upon the Cowboy Luttrells of this world and their grandfathers.

If Mr. Dempsey considers himself busted with $400,000 annuity around the corner, imagine what the feelings must be of John Arthur Johnson and Jam J. Jeffries, and Harry Wills and Jess Willard and Samuel Langford. They can give Mr. Dempsey cash. I spades when it comes to that. But he's a fellow with ideas, that Dempsey. He thinks, for example, that women are more blood-thirsty than men. So did Kipling by the way.

"The dolls," says Mr. Dempsey, "dearly love those rough and tumble wherein an athlete loses his front teeth or has an ear knocked off. Every sport thrills the distinct possibility of a sudden explosion of energy. The one-punch knockout, the long, stabbing touchdown run, the spectacular goal in hockey or polo, the hell-for-leather drive down the stretch in racing, are illustrative of all this."

The event that draws the largest proportion of women in the world, says Dempsey, is the annual $50,000 mile automobile race in Indianapolis. Nearly seventy-five thousand, a good part women, sit under a brooding sun and inhale nauseating gas fumes for more than five hours every Memorial Day. Why? Because men are flirting with sudden death on the speedway.

Jack thinks that perhaps it's just as well that women are content to take their sports thrills vicariously. "The atrocities they would wreak upon men as active participants in the more exuberant games are too horrible to contemplate," he says. "Man will be a doomed breed when women pour out of the stands, roll up their sleeves, and join the gladiators in the arena."

How I would like to see my friend Jack climb into the ring as he climbed that day in Toledo to batter down the gigantic Willard. But that was not his greatest hour of courage, as I shall come to in a moment. What is it about this big, dark-haired, smiling chap that has really endeared him to all sorts of people. Well, one thing is a true liking for his fellowmen—a fine warmth of heart, with generosity and tolerance. Another is gameness, the sort that can tackle life, as well as a tough opponent in the squared circle.

Washington was that breed of man, beaten to his knees, by the power of Britain, but never knocked out. Grant was that kind of man, for they said of him that he never knew when he was licked. Theodore Roosevelt was that kind of man and remained so until the last days of his gallant life.

The same quality has lifted Jack Dempsey from poverty and obscurity to a secure place in the affection and admiration of the public, for the qualities that are really his, the gentleness that glazes and fighting

COUNTY FAIR PHILOSOPHY

THOSE who have doubts about the future of the United States and feel the country is headed for the demitition howwows should take a day off and head for the county fair. They can find suggestions: showing the solid foundations upon which this civilization is built.

The county fair may be to a large extent a pleasure gathering. People would not crowd to it as they do unless they had a mighty good time there. But unlike many sporting events, there is a foundation of solid achievement on which the whole show rests. A county fair is primarily a display of farm products. It presents the cream of the output of the surrounding farms, orchards and gardens.

To be seen there is the fruit of toilsome labor, going back many years. Also the fruit of thoughtful study and inquiry of experienced persons. Those noble fat cattle, kings and queens of the bovine world, those grunting porkers that can scarcely waddle across the pen for their heaps of fat, did not grow to their present stature and form by luck and chance. Brains and sweat were spent freely to produce them.

These exhibits show that the American people are not trying to make their living by luck and chance and smart tricks, but that the solid folk on the farms are trying to produce and sell useful products of high quality. In doing so, they encourage others to do likewise.

They demonstrate that the prizes of life are won in the main by merit, rather than by luck, pull, favor or politics. When people get that idea and go back to their jobs they are bound to do better work. It imparts faith in humanity and this country to see these industrious rural folk as with pardonable pride they lead the prize bull into the ring, and arrange those luscious fruits on the exhibition table.

HIGH TIDE OF SUMMER

There is something wonderfully rich in the face of nature as summer draws toward its close. The fields have labored and brought forth to their utmost. Great waving areas of grain smile and gleam in the sun. Heaps of colorful vegetables and fruits appear in the orchards and the gardens, and create pictures more glowing than those produced by any artist.

Flowers of every shade blossom in the home lots and fields. The trees are heavy with refreshing shade. There has been given one more demonstration of the enormous resources of this world.

There is abundance on this globe for all. Only man in his ignorance and his wastefulness and his selfishness, fails to make due use of all this richness, so that there is widespread destruction and famine in Europe.

RAILROAD WRECKS AND "MAN FAILURE"

Man failure—the ofttime inexplicable tendency of workers to take chances or disobey orders—is not an excuse for accidents, or train wrecks, but merely an explanation of how they are caused. And experience in industry has demonstrated that a good deal of so-called man failure is preventable.

The second grave railway wreck of 1940, with 43 dead in Ohio, takes rank as one of the gravest in railway history and like the New York Central wreck last April this one on the Pennsylvania is blamed on the failure of the crew of a gasoline coach to obey an order to go on a siding and a further failure to obey standing rules against entering the next block without permission.

The railroads, in spite of these tragedies, are still the safest form of transportation. But that record, built through years of painstaking efforts to improve personnel and safety devices, can be marred, perhaps destroyed. Thus the explanation "man failure" even if true cannot be passed off lightly.

COURTING AND MARRYING

The claimed discovery by a Scotch scientist, announced recently, that, contrary to popular belief, opposites do not attract each other in matters of courting and marrying, seems to put an entirely new face on the whole institution of matrimony.

According to this savant, people really are attracted in courting and marrying by those who are most like themselves. If that is true, matrimony at once seems put on a higher plane than it has been assumed to occupy throughout the ages. Humankind's opinion of itself being what it is, what greater compliment could the average person pay his mate than by marrying him or her, as the case may be? According to the Scotchman's theory, marriage really starts off on a basis of mutual admiration even more fundamental and compelling than almost anyone had thought was possible.

What is hard to understand, however, is why, if the Scotchman is right, marriage was so much more stable an institution in those lavender-scented days when the swain was wont to begin the courtship by groaning to himself and others "I'm not half good enough for her." Under the theory of likes attracting likes, he really was setting up the proposition that "She's not half good enough for me," which would seem to have been a poor foundation for matrimonial alliances that, nevertheless, usually lasted at least until the golden wedding.

And why all the divorce mills in this present age, when marriage seems to be so largely a matter of mutual condescension and implies, if likes attract likes, the practical ultimate in mutual flattery?

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ARITHMETIC NECESSARY EVIL

"Dear Dr. Myers: On several occasions you have paid special attention to the subject of arithmetic and the different methods by which it may be taught.

"I am now a senior in high school and have never given it much thought. However, since I majored in commercial work, mathematics was not required. Besides it was never my specialty. I don't care for figures and calculating. But I realized that even if I will not need mathematics in my course of life, it is essential to be quick with numbers.

"Perhaps, as you said, I started learning wrong in the first place. I was taught to count with my fingers and now I find I still have to.

"Normally I am not a slow person and can usually think fast, but I wish I could improve my arithmetic and could understand figures as quickly as some do. I didn't quite understand the method you prescribed in the paper. I wish you could write me personally on this subject, and maybe help me to facilitate my method of calculating and to be quick in getting answers."

Solving The Problem

My reply:

"In your ordinary life's experience you will constantly need to do some work with figures, and I am sure you don't want to go on counting on your fingers and wasting time in simple everyday calculations. You will need to master the simple fundamentals in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, especially addition and subtraction. Most of all you will need to know by heart the 100 basic addition facts like 5 and 9 are 14 and the 100 basic subtraction facts like 3 from 11 are 8.

"Since you still must count on your fingers you never have learned these simple foundation number facts by heart. You can easily do it now by devoting fifteen minutes an evening to the job. I am enclosing a page with the 100 addition facts and another page with the 100 subtraction facts. Begin with the addition sheet. Memorize 8 or 10 of them at a sitting. Never allow your self to guess or count. Always go back and look at the whole fact, such as 7 under 8, a line under that and under the line, 15, and say it over and over whole you look at it. Do it as mechanically as if you were learning to spell biscuit.

"After you know all these addition facts, attack all the same way the sheet of subtraction facts.

Summed Study

"Parents who have a child in grades from 3 to 8 for whom arithmetic is hard should encourage this child to learn by heart all such facts in addition and subtraction he does not already know automatically. Indeed, any child in these grades should afford this summer to check himself on these basic addition and subtraction facts in order to escape a vast deal of annoyances with numbers next year. Any one may have these two sheets by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, N. Y., enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles
NEW WRINKLES

The citizens of this nation have been building houses—dwellings places you all, ever since the first colony of Europeans landed on our shores. They have been building houses of wood, brick, stone, plaster, cement, tile; in fact, out of most of the materials of which they could conceive a house could be built, and each builder has built with the idea of comfort for his inhabitant, and durability for the building itself.

In the last few years, however, many new wrinkles have been introduced tending to make living conditions pleasant. Scientists, architects, engineers, chemists, and what have you, have determined that buildings that admit warm infrared rays in winter, and that absorb sunlight in the day give it off as a soft glow in the darkness. These are some of the things to be expected when people live in plastic houses.

A step in this direction is the plan for molded plastic building blocks made of ethyl cellulose and polystyrene, a mineral oil product. The blocks are one foot square and less than one-eighth of an inch thick, with holes around the edges allowing them to be nailed to a wooden or light metal framework.

Available in many colors, they are designed for both interior and exterior walls, permitting insulation against heat and cold.

No paint, plaster, or wallpaper is needed and the blocks can be transparent, translucent, or opaque, depending on where they are used. Advantages seen are: Light weight, low fire hazard, no cracked walls—crevices between the blocks are sealed with an elastic caulking—and immunity to decay, disintegration, or insect attack.

This is the last word in building, submitted in the language of the experts of today, and if you are thinking of building, talk it over with your builder.

TRAVELING LIGHT

Along the Way of Life that I must go, Dear Lord,

I would that I might travel light
So my immortal soul may rest
Be weighed down till endless day
Succeeds each sleepless, restless night.

Give me the strength to throw away
Those useless things
Which clutter life's unending flight.

The two-edged sword of ancient battles
Which cuts my heart until I am
Too weak to battle for the right.

My cherished mask of pomp and pride
Through which my eyes
Cannot behold my brother's plight.
Oh, grant I learn my soul's true needs.

Then gladly on my Way of Life
I'll run because I'm traveling light.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: Please suggest an appropriate bouquet for the bride, and boutonnières for the men of the wedding party.—E. B.

Answer: The bride who wears a white dress and veil should carry an all-white bouquet. It may consist of white roses, white sweet peas, gardenias, lilies, white orchids and lilies of the valley, white lilacs, or a spray of lilies, tied with a bow of white ribbon. The bride not wearing a veil may carry an arm bouquet or wear a shoulder corsage, the flowers in which should be of a shade harmonizing with her ensemble. The men of the wedding party should wear white boutonnières. The bridegroom's is usually somewhat different from those of the others and it may properly be taken from the bride's bouquet. The best man, the ushers and the bride's father may wear white gardenias or white carnations.

Question: Should personal cards with "sympathy" written on them and sent to a bereaved family be acknowledged? If so, how?

Answer: Indeed, yes, personal cards so superscribed should be acknowledged in the same manner as are letters of condolence—by written note. If you have a great number of these messages to acknowledge, you might, if you wish, send, instead, your own personal visiting card with "Thank you for your kind sympathy" written across the top.

What's What At A Glance
Exiled Royalty Comes To This Country
Have No Trouble Gaining Admission Now
Canadian Border Restrictions Are Tight

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Exiled European royal personages have been arriving in the United States quite numerous of late. As Germany overruns their various countries they seem to consider this a highly desirable asylum to head for.

I've heard the question raised: Why are these individuals different from any other class of immigrants?

We've been pretty particular about admitting aliens in recent years. They're regulated by quotas. They have to account for themselves strictly. Shortly they're likely to have to register and have their finger prints taken.

But these royalties appear to get in merely by arriving here. They have no passports, but that's a mere formality.

American Citizens

Why, American citizens, just back from little auto trips into Canada, have more trouble, crossing the border, than these ex-kings, ex-queens, ex-princes and ex-princesses have in landing in our midst.

The Canadian border situation has caused a good bit of kicking lately. A Yankee tourist, returning from the Dominion, doesn't have to have a passport, but he does have to prove that he's an American native. How he proves it? With a birth certificate? Ah, but a lot of Americans haven't any. How else then?

Well, one way the immigration authorities employ is to listen to the would-be entrant's accent. However, the American and Canadian accents are hardly perceptibly different. Stumped by this test, the immigration official says, "How do you pronounce the last letter in the alphabet?" If the applicant pronounces it "zed", in the English fashion, he's barred. If he pronounces it "z", as we do, presumably he's admissible. In parts of Canada, however, they say "z", just like an American. So that doesn't necessarily justify an admission, either.

In short, numbers of perfectly good Americans have been tied up at the border for several days, trying to establish their citizenship.

A good bit of howling has ensued.

All Royalty Welcome

But Europe's ex-monarchs don't have to say "z", show finger prints or anything.

They come right in, and welcome. How do they do it?

The story in Washington is that William C. Bullitt, our ambassador to France, now at home, reporting to President Roosevelt, does most of the preliminary fixing for them.

Not that Bullitt is a royalist. He's one of the first families of Philadelphia. He's been ambassador to Moscow, certainly no royalist center. France, his present ambassadorial post, isn't royalist, either. But Bill does not being identified with prominent people. So, when a fugitive king or some such individual applies to him for diplomatic courtesies, Bill attends to 'em for him.

He unquestionably has more overseas royalties under obligations to him than any other American.

Nearly Bombed

When his embassy nearly was bombed, at the time the Germans were over-aviating Paris, Bill didn't under-advertise the incident a particle.

Just now, back consulting with the president, he favors our continued recognition of the Petain government of France—the one that capitulated to Hitler. The Petain outfit at present is engaged in purging ex-Premier Daladier and his fellow members of the French cabinet, for refusing to surrender.

That's all right with Bill Bullitt—he's with the most prominent people available, and Petain certainly is more prominent than ex-Premier Daladier.

There's a certain amount of inconsistency in Bill's disregard of ex-Premier Daladier, while doing so much for European ex-royalty. But that's all right. Royalty, even "ex", is conspicuous to associate with. Daladier no longer has a job to make him count. Petain still is a premier.

I used to know Bill when he was a delegate with Henry Ford's peace party.

If the greatest guns be right.
Then this dreadful fact is plain:
Every man must bow to might.
Every dream of peace is vain.

If to force man must submit
And if power makes evil good,
Vain are prayer and Holy Writ,
Vain all hope of brotherhood.

If to numbers truth belongs
And the stronger side is right,
Man must suffer cruel wrongs
For the lack of dynamite.

But no force or tyrant power
Ever raised on land or sea,
Shall for any single hour
End man's love of liberty.

The Human Side Of The News
(By EDWIN C. HILL)

My friend William Harrison Dempsey—Jack Dempsey—yourself has challenged Gene Tunney to fight in Chicago, the town which they practically looted some thirteen years ago. Some folks think, and say, that Mr. Tunney, the contented squire of Greenwich, wants no part of Mr. Dempsey, who has been going around slapping down a lot of push-overs. Not that Squire Tunney is afraid of Mr. Dempsey, because Mr. Tunney, though a cautious and canny man, is a warrior at heart and afraid of nothing that breathes the breath of life. It's simply that he's through with a racket he never did like, and won't be dragged back into it.

Mr. Tunney is doing his fighting in the magazines now. He wrote a piece recently in which he attacked Joe Louis flat with a particularity and kayoed him with a split infinitive. A lot of people are wondering why friend Dempsey, generally rated as a millionaire, has to go around slapping down muscle-bound wrestlers and the like. The answer is that Mr. Dempsey needs the money. His activities will not start paying for him for two years. His bankroll is sunk in his soda fountain on Broadway. He has two charming daughters and belongs to the Alimony Club (one thousand dollars a month). Cash is what he needs and plenty of it, and that is why he has suddenly declared war upon the Cowboy Luttrells of this world and their grandfathers.

If Mr. Dempsey considers himself basted with $400,000 annuity around the corner, imagine what the feelings must be of John Arthur Johnson and Jimmy J. Jeffries, and Harry Wills and Jess Willard and Samuel Langford. They can give Mr. Dempsey card—spades when it comes to that. But he's a fellow with ideas, that Dempsey. He thinks, for example, that women are more blood-thirsty than men. So did Kipling by the way.

Evangelical Church To Direct Park Service Sunday

Rev. Dietrich To Be Speaker

Choir Of Church Will Present Two Special Selections At Service

PROGRAM TO OPEN AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

The Rev. Clyde W. Dietrich, pastor of the Emanuel Evangelical church of South Jefferson street, will be in charge of the union service, the sixth in the series, at Cascade Park, Sunday evening.

This service, to begin at 7 o'clock, will be held in the new community house at the park. These union services are sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association.

As his sermon subject, Rev. Dietrich has chosen, "When Do You Look for the Coming of Jesus?" Two special selections will be sung by the choir of the Emanuel Evangelical church, under the direction of George Strehler. Mr. Strehler will also lead the congregational singing.

Services at the park, thus far, have been well attended. They will continue until the first Sunday in September.

Street Crew Plans Meeting At Croton

Picnic Tickets For August 8 To Be Distributed At Sunday School

The City Rescue Mission street crew is planning another street meeting this evening at Croton by the schoolhouse. On Sunday morning, the crew will journey to the Newport Methodist church to present a program of music and gospel sermon.

An enthusiastic Sunday school will be held on Sunday afternoon with classes for all. This will be the last Sunday for children to get their picnic tickets for the big annual picnic to be held on August 8. Instructions and tickets will be given out.

Sunday evening the evangelistic crew will hold a service in the Mission, in the form of an all-music program.

Summer Conference Starts Fifth Week

The fifth week of the Fifth Annual Summer Bible conference which has been progressing at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle during the past four weeks will be opened with three special sessions on Sunday, beginning at 11 o'clock, 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

The guest speaker will be Rev. Mervyn L. Lowe, noted Bible teacher of Bible School Park, N. Y., who has announced the following sermon subjects: "The Lord Jesus Christ In Psalm 110"; "Is Hitler The Anti-Christ?"; and "World Conditions In The Light of Bible Prophecy." The sermon for this evening will be "The Russian-German Pact Is It In The Bible?"

Rev. Lowe will be followed on Tuesday by one of America's most forceful evangelists, Dan McNally, formerly a convict in the Missouri State penitentiary. After his conversion and months of Christian work in the penitentiary, he was freed by the governor. Mr. McNally is filling engagements in many of the country's largest churches and tabernacles.

Rev. Burton To Speak On Radio

The weekly radio service of the New Castle Ministerial Association will be held over station WKST at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It will be conducted by the Rev. Chas. J. Burton, pastor of St. Andrews, Episcopal church. The sermon topic will be "The Burning Bush."

Music will be by the St. Andrew's choir, under the direction of Thomas J. Evans. Owing to the organist, Mrs. Ethel Evans, being in the hospital, her daughter Miss Laura J. Evans, will preside at the piano.

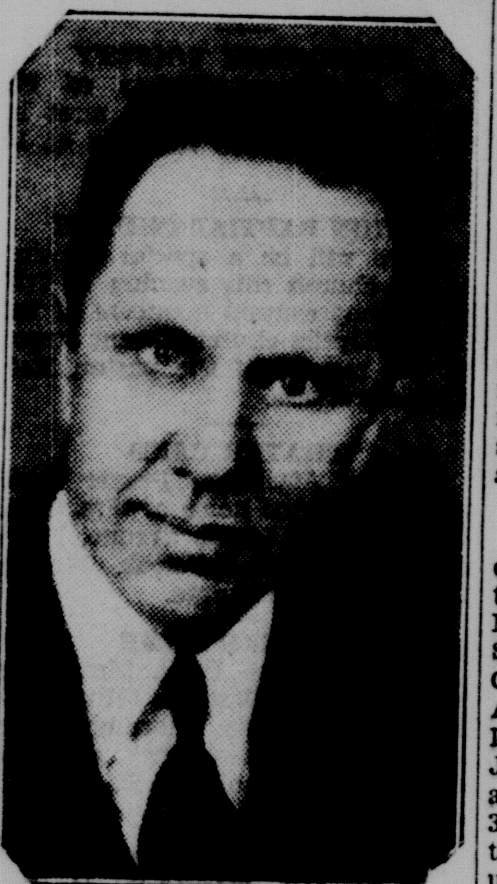

Dr. Wingerd At Central Church

Dr. C. B. Wingerd, of Stuart, Fla., former pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon at morning worship at 11 o'clock, Sunday, in that church.

Dr. Wingerd, who is spending the summer at Chautauque, will visit in this city for a few days.

The pastor of Central Presbyterian church, Dr. Robert Meade Patterson, is now on vacation.

Rev. L. S. Mersheimer To Conduct Campaign

REV. L. S. MERSHEIMER

Rev. L. S. Mersheimer, an evangelist from Harrisville, Pa., will conduct an evangelistic campaign at the Gethsemane tabernacle, beginning Sunday, August 4, and continuing until Sunday, August 18.

Rev. Mersheimer is well known here, having conducted an evangelistic campaign at the tabernacle, last November.

Services will commence each evening at 7:45 o'clock, and special song numbers will be presented nightly.

This evening the regular song and praise service will be held at 7:45 o'clock. Along with the testimonies of the congregation, the pastor, Rev. Clifford L. Duncan, will deliver the message.

Guest Minister At First Presbyterian

Rev. Frank C. Black, pastor of the First U. P. church of Warren, O., will preach at the First Presbyterian church at morning worship on Sunday.

Dr. Black has been heard in this pulpit before and is well known in this community, his first pastorate having been at Princeton. He was chosen to preach last winter at the annual Week of Prayer for the students at Westminster College, and conducted a most successful series of meetings.

Dr. Percival H. Lynch of Mount Washington Baptist church, Pittsburgh will be guest preacher, Sunday at the First Baptist church. The sermon topic for the morning service will be "Who was the world's greatest sinner?" in the evening, "Five Positive proofs you are or not a real Christian."

He will also address the Sunday school, in the opening session, and teach the Men's Bible class.

TO HAVE SERVICE AT COUNTY HOME

Members of the Clifford Ryan Bible class, Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, will hold a service Sunday afternoon at 2:45 in the county home, on the Ellwood City road. Al Martin will be in charge.

Miss Muri Smith announces that Nellie Adams, a recent graduate of the Missionary Training Institute of Nyack, N. Y., will be the speaker at the junior department exercises at the 9:30 hour.

WILL PREACH SERMON FOR CHILDREN SUNDAY

Preceding the communion service at the First Congregational church on East Reynolds street, Sunday morning the minister, Rev. Rees T. Williams will preach a children's sermon. This service will follow the church school.

Prepare For Fair Opening Tuesday

Old Sol beamed on spic-and-span acres and trim buildings of the New Castle fair grounds today—and fair officials clung to their hopes that he'll smile down as kindly all next week!

The annual fair gets under way Tuesday at noon and continues until Friday night. And the exhibition high command knows from experience that under the sunshine the turnstiles click much faster.

"We're ready for one of our biggest shows," was the word from Secretary-Manager A. Clyde Shoaf today.

Midway Show Arriving

The Lawrence Greater Shows, Inc. with their attractions of merit, will arrive Sunday to set up on the grounds. This carnival is making its first appearance here and according to General Manager Lawrence he is bringing one of the finest shows with the latest in riding equipment and other outstanding features.

Among some of the shows on the midway of the fair will be the "Jumping Jive Revue," a rambling old plantation, with vine covered piazzas, of the days before the war, come to mind when the harmony six star singing in the Jumping Jive Revue. This revue it is said to be the most complete colored troupe on tour today. It is by no means an Old Plantation show of the type once common on every American Midway. But the savor of the old south was not forgotten when the producers and managers started arranging.

Pretty blondes, and dazzling "Red-heads" and beautiful brunettes will be found in the "Casino Beautiful". Not only are these girls in the Casino Beautiful but they are talented and were chosen for their work on their looks, their youth and their ability to sing and dance. Wardrobe and scenic effects of the Casino Beautiful is said to be the finest carried by any mid-way organization anywhere. Thousands of dollars were spent in assembling the beautiful scenery, daintily lovely costumes and the interior effects of the tented theatre housing this beautiful extravaganza.

The Monster Show with KOKO the wild man from the jungle who feasts on live chickens and snakes, "The Monkey Circus", with the finest trained troupe of monkeys ever before presented on any show, this circus features many outstanding animals with the star Rosie the only high jumping monkey in the world. This Monkey has been featured in many Hollywood productions and also in some of the Disney cartoons. "The Expose", exposing the white slave traffic and the dope peddler who lives in society, this show explains the working of these felids and how they lure innocent girls to their downfall in ill fame.

But that is just a sample of the Lawrence Greater Shows attractions. Horse racing and agricultural and mercantile exhibits will be more elaborate than ever, fair heads said. Improvements about the grounds have been many and visitors will see what major changes have been made.

'Hare-Hound' Chase Camp Rentz Feature

Gives Boys Lively Time; Rev. Shearer Preaches Sunday Afternoon

(Special To The News)

CAMP FRED L. RENTZ, Aug. 3.—A heated "hare and hound" chase was the feature of the program of Camp Rentz for Friday. The hares, Dave Cramer and Dan Woolcock, Jack Dunlap and Glenn Caldwell, laid a trail through the surrounding roads and led the boys over the territory immediately surrounding the camp. Jack Hornicle, Bob Jackson, Dick McKee, and Joe Markley were the hounds that came close to catching the hares. "Hare Dunlap evaded all the hounds and returned to camp with out being caught. Following the chase all the boys went to the river and enjoyed a swim.

Evening came and the boys partook of a track meet which the Tully Cabin won. Members of the Tully are: Bill Orend, Dick McKee, Fred Wimer, Joe Markley, Sayle Wolfe, Bob Johnson, Ed Jackson and Skip Hornicle.

This day's activities will consist of a long hike followed by the cooking of dinner by the boys over individual camp fires.

The Kate Rentz Cabin have enjoyed the privilege of winning the Cabin inspection every day for the past ten days. This feat has not been duplicated for a long period of time at Camp Rentz.

Sunday will mark the end of camp for a number of the campers and as a closing ceremony, a candle-light service will be rendered. All parents are invited to attend this service. At the afternoon vespers Rev. Milton Shearer of the Seventh Ward will speak.

K. of C. Social Event On Monday

Grounds Of The Knights Of Columbus Home Will Be Scene Of Annual Event

Arrangements have all been completed and all is in readiness for the Knights of Columbus annual social summer event, which will be held on the lit grounds of the K. of C. Home, North Jefferson street, on Monday, August 5.

This announcement was made by the chairman, Sergeant Owen E. Tighe. The following group of men will assist the sergeant on this occasion: Edgar Reig, John Gallagher, Richard Burke, Hugh Daugherty and Francis Augustine.

An interesting program has been planned for the evening, with contests to be played. Winning prizes will be distributed at the close of the contests.

Axe, Flower Pot, Knife In Battle

William Washington and Sam Gray, both colored, got into a fight at the rear of 308 West Falls street this morning and the result was, six stitches in Washington's head when Gray reportedly "blitzed" him with a flower pot when Washington allegedly twirled an axe.

It was reported by police that for weapons, Gray, had a flower pot and a knife and Washington an axe. According to Patrolman Wayne Sines, Gray tossed the flower pot at Washington's head and Washington required attention by a Jameson Memorial hospital surgeon.

Washington was taken to police headquarters. Gray is being sought.

Per each 1,000 population in 1939 there were 349 radios.

Girl Scout Camp Opens On Sunday

Close To 100 New Castle
Girls Going To Camp Near Transfer, Pa.

Sunday afternoon, close to 100 New Castle Girl Scouts will invade Camp Klondashawa, located near Transfer, Pa., to begin their two-week camping period in this year's permanent camp season.

Prepare For Fair Opening Tuesday

Old Sol beamed on spic-and-span acres and trim buildings of the New Castle fair grounds today—and fair officials clung to their hopes that he'll smile down as kindly all next week!

The annual fair gets under way Tuesday at noon and continues until Friday night. And the exhibition high command knows from experience that under the sunshine the turnstiles click much faster.

"We're ready for one of our biggest shows," was the word from Secretary-Manager A. Clyde Shoaf today.

Midway Show Arriving
The Lawrence Greater Shows, Inc., with their attractions of merit, will arrive Sunday to set up on the grounds. This carnival is making its first appearance here and according to General Manager Lawrence he is bringing one of the finest shows with the latest in riding equipment and other outstanding features.

Among some of the shows on the midway of the fair will be the "Jumping Jive Revue," a rambling old plantation, with vine covered piazzas, of the days before the war, come to mind when the harmony six start singing in the Jumping Jive Revue. This revue it is said to be the most complete colored troupe on tour today. It is by no means an old plantation show of the type once common on every "American Mid-way." But the savor of the old south was not forgotten when the producers and managers started arranging.

Pretty blondes, and dazzling "Red-heads" and beautiful brunettes will be found in the "Casino Beautiful." Not only are these girls in the Casino Beautiful but they are talented and were chosen for their work on their looks, their youth and their ability to sing and dance. Wardrobe and scenic effects of the Casino Beautiful is said to be the finest carried by any mid-way organization anywhere. Thousands of dollars were spent in assembling the beautiful scenery, daintily lovely costumes and the interior effects of the tented theatre housing this beautiful extravaganza.

The Monster Show with KOKO the wild man from the jungle who feasts on live chickens and snakes, "The Monkey Circus," with the finest trained troupe of monkeys ever before presented on any show, this circus features many outstanding animals with the star Rosie the only high jumping monkey in the world. This Monkey has been featured in many Hollywood productions and also in some of the Disney cartoons. "The Exposé," exposing the white slave traffic and the dope peddler who lives in society, this show explains the working of these fiends and how they lure innocent girls to their downfall in ill fame.

But that is just a sample of the Lawrence Greater Shows attractions. Horse racing and agricultural and mercantile exhibits will be more elaborate than ever, fair heads said. Improvements about the grounds have been many and visitors will see what major changes have been made.

'Hare-Hound' Chase Camp Rentz Feature

Gives Boys Lively Time; Rev.
Shearer Preaches Sunday
Afternoon

(Special To The News)
CAMP REED L. RENTZ, Aug. 3.—A heated "hare and hound" chase was the feature of the program of Camp Rentz for Friday. The hares, Dave Cramer and Dan Woodcock, Jack Dunlap and Glenn Caldwell, laid a trail through the surrounding roads and led the boys over the territory immediately surrounding the camp. Jack Hornick, Bob Jackson, Dick McKee, and Joe Markley were the hounds that came close to catching the hares. "Hare Dunlap evaded all the hounds and returned to camp with out being captured. Following the chase all the boys went to the river and enjoyed a swim.

Evening came and the boys partook of a track meet which the Tully Cabin won. Members of the Tully are: Bill Orend, Dick McKee, Fred Wimer, Joe Markley, Sayle Wolfe, Bob Johnson, Ed Jackson and Skip Hornick.

This day's activities will consist of a long hike followed by the cooking of dinners by the boys over individual camp fires.

The Kite Rentz Cabin have enjoyed the privilege of winning the Cabin inspection every day for the past few days. This feat has not been duplicated for a long period of time at Camp Rentz.

Sunday will mark the end of camp for a number of the campers and as a closing ceremony, a candle-light service will be rendered. All parents are invited to attend this service. At the afternoon vesper Rev. Milton Shearer of the Seventh Ward will speak.

New Castle Wants
1941 Gymanfa Ganu

Local Committee To Endeavor
To Get National Music Festival For This City
Next Year

If plans formally initiated Friday night in the First Congregational church materialize New Castle will get the 1941 National Gymanfa Ganu, a gathering of singers of Welsh descent from the eastern and middle United States.

For some time the idea has been growing in favor here. New Castle has the facilities to handle such an affair. It has the singers, and it has always been repeated at the national meetings. This year when the Gymanfa Ganu is held in Detroit, Mich., an effort will be made to get it for New Castle in 1941.

At the meeting Friday night, Daniel Hughes acted as chairman and plans were discussed for the ground work which must be done before the Detroit meeting in September. To get the Gymanfa Ganu here, it will be necessary to get favorable action from the delegates and also raise a small sum of money to guarantee necessary expenses.

An executive committee of Harry Jones, Griff Thomas, L. J. Lewis and Miss Florine Davies was appointed, and they have already started their plans to capture as many of the delegates as possible in Detroit.

The national Gymanfa Ganu attract several thousand visitors to the city selected for the annual meeting. It lasts two days and results in some glorious singing. New Castle people other than those of Welsh extraction are interested in the idea and the committee in charge should have little difficulty in getting what support it needs.

WOODPILE BURNS
Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Ella Thayer, of Wallace avenue at Blaine street, this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, when a woodpile in the rear of the lot caught fire from a small bonfire. No damage resulted.

Pour Last Of
Wearing Surface
On Viaduct Floor

Viaduct Opening Postponed
Until Middle Of Week According To Report

Late Friday afternoon, the last concrete of the wearing surface was poured on the Mahoning Avenue viaduct, completing the job of re-flooring the bridge.

Good progress has been made on this bridge, the workmen being aided by fine weather during the entire construction period.

The opening of the viaduct to traffic has been postponed from Sunday to the middle of next week. This will permit the concrete to become hardened and well set.

A fine concrete surface now replaces the old wooden blocks that for years were a hazard to motorists.

men should have, along with the squareness and straightforwardness they should have.

It takes more than a pair of iron arms and iron fists to make a great fighter. It takes heart and intelligence to make a great champion, as Jack Dempsey was, and as he is today, though the title lies elsewhere. And one of the greatest tributes that Dempsey has ever earned is the fact that even now, wherever he goes about his affairs, they call him "Champ".

He never looked greater than in the hour of his bitterest defeat, that night Tunney took his title away from him as rain poured upon 140,000 thousand people in Philadelphia. Gaze with me at this picture of Dempsey, standing there in the rain, as the referee raised the right arm of the new champion!

The left side of Dempsey's face, against which Tunney's right hand stabbed round after round, was a purple pulp. The left eye was nearly closed, lost in the swollen flesh. Nose and mouth seemed twisted, out of joint. His body tottered upon weakened knees. But when the bell clanged for the last time, there stood the old champion, still leaning forward, still coming in, tired left arm thrust out, his one good eye still blazing defiance at his opponent. He was almost out on his feet, but there he stood like a wounded tiger. I would rather retain in the gallery of memory that picture of Jack Dempsey in defeat than any word picture I ever made of him in the full flush of his triumph.

Cases Of Rabies
Less During Months
Of July And August

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—Belief that dogs "go mad" during the mythical so-called August "dog days" was challenged by John H. Light, secretary of agriculture.

He pointed out that department statistics proved over a 15-year period starting in 1925 that the total number of cases of rabies in Pennsylvania was less during July and August than any other months.

At the same time, Light said that Pennsylvania dog owners secured 18,404 individual licenses and 21 kennel permits during June to increase the state-wide total to 523,101 individual licenses and 703 kennels. He added that local police officers disposed of 2029 stray dogs during the month.

The left side of Dempsey's face, against which Tunney's right hand stabbed round after round, was a purple pulp. The left eye was nearly closed, lost in the swollen flesh. Nose and mouth seemed twisted, out of joint. His body tottered upon weakened knees. But when the bell clanged for the last time, there stood the old champion, still leaning forward, still coming in, left arm thrust out, his one good eye still blazing defiance at his opponent. He was almost out on his feet, but there he stood like a wounded tiger. I would rather retain in the gallery of memory that picture of Jack Dempsey in defeat than any word picture I ever made of him in the full flush of his triumph.

Cases Of Rabies
Less During Months
Of July And August

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 3.—Belief that dogs "go mad" during the mythical so-called August "dog days" was challenged by John H. Light, secretary of agriculture. He pointed out that department statistics proved over a 15-year period starting in 1925 that the total number of cases of rabies in Pennsylvania was less during July and August than any other months.

At the same time, Light said that Pennsylvania dog owners secured 18,404 individual licenses and 21 kennel permits during June to increase the state-wide total to 523,101 individual licenses and 703 kennels. He added that local police officers disposed of 2029 stray dogs during the month.

MEET AFTER 20 YEARS

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS—Two half-sisters, one 47 years old, the other 55, met for the first time although they had lived within 15 miles of each other for the past 20 years. They are Mrs. Emma Sommers, 55, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Lena Detto, 47, of Collinsville, Ill. across the Mississippi river from St. Louis. They are offsprings of the two different marriages of their late mother.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SUPERSTITIONS

Since I began, some months ago, to discuss various superstitions about child and maternal care in this column, I have had correspondence with a large number of persons who have sent me stories of superstitions common in their locality. Some of these superstitions were new to me but most of them I had encountered before. The letters showed that most medical superstitions are rather generally held.

One of these concerns what are called "Madstones". These stones, removed from the abdomens of animals, have always been looked on as being endowed with magical properties. I suppose this is because the uneducated people couldn't understand how these stones got inside the abdomen of man or beast and concluded they must have been put there by magic.

"Madstones" are given credit for performing all sorts of miracle cures. Around here, when I began practicing over thirty years ago, these madstones were common. I haven't run across one lately. In those days, a madstone if rubbed over a cut, or wound, was supposed to heal the spot, and prevent the formation of pus, or blood-poisoning.

Of course, this is ridiculous, and could lead to a great deal of trouble, for is someone with a bad wound depended on a madstone for treatment when he should have a doctor, he might very easily pay for his folly with his life. Madstones were also supposed to be a sure cure for hydrophobia, an equally ridiculous belief.

A letter tells me about a superstition in central states about buttermilk. Buttermilk is usually supposed to be good for the stomach and bowels. But, great care must be taken in removing that bark from the tree. If it is to be used as a laxative, then the bark must be peeled DOWN. If, however, removes the bark scrapes the tree up then the resultant medicine wouldn't act as a laxative, but will be an emetic. When a patient was given some of this medicine and it made him really ill, then the champions of the potion declared that whoever had secured the bark had scraped it off with both upward and downward strokes.

As I have said before, most old wives' superstitions are usually harmless. But beliefs like those we referred to above are actually dangerous and should be combated wherever found. I know many persons in cities today probably smile at these superstitions in the belief that nobody takes any stock in them these days. If they were a country doctor they would know differently.

WONDERFUL FOR PILES

"Please send at once a large jar of San-Cura Ointment. It is wonderful for piles and ulcers," writes J. N. Roebuck of 7704 Dearborn Ave., Cleveland. San-Cura is no less wonderful for minor sores, cuts, bruises, skin irritations and chilblains. 35c and 60c at all drug stores. It is a great help in piles if consolidated to take Golden-Lax Tablets when using San-Cura Ointment. Golden-Lax Tablets, 25c. At Eckerd's and all drug stores.

President Against Sen. Hiram Johnson

Rejects Californian As Candidate For Re-election In Primaries

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Roosevelt today rejected Sen. Hiram Johnson (R. Calif.), as a Democratic candidate for reelection. Johnson is entered in the August 27 California primaries on the Republican, Democratic and Progressive tickets.

Asked at his press conference whether he considered Johnson a Democrat, Mr. Roosevelt replied with a decisive "No."

The president said he did not think any one in his wildest dreams could regard Johnson as a liberal or progressive Democrat in the year 1940.

Johnson was a liberal and progressive Democrat for many years, the president said, but he has certainly changed a lot of the last three or four years. The president said he made this statement despite his long and sincere friendship with Johnson. He said he was still very fond of him.

In 1924 Johnson, with Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement, ran on all three tickets and was elected overwhelmingly.

The fault in "appeasement" is that it doesn't show your motive. The other fellow sees only a yellow streak.

Four sentences were handed down Friday morning by Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey. Louis Koch was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail and to pay the costs on a charge of burglary. Otis Carey drew sixty days in the county jail and the costs for aiding and abetting prostitution, and Alice Carey drew thirty days in the county jail for prostitution. Tony Moreski got six months in the workhouse for assault and battery.

Now and then a case comes before the court which is more than just a legal question. It involves human emotions, and calls for more than merely knowledge of the law or judicial mind. Such a case came before Judge Thomas W. Dickey on Friday, a case of habeas corpus in which Mr. and Mrs. Mike Assad of East Brook asked for the custody of their grandson, Sam Joseph, Jr., three, the son of their daughter.

The father of the boy, Sam Joseph, Sr., apparently acquiesced in the request for he makes his home with the Assads on their farm. The daughter of the Assads work in a cafe in New Castle and lives on Long avenue. During her working hours the child is cared for by a friend of hers.

It was the contention of the Assads that they were better able to care for the child than the mother and inasmuch as the father was with them, they asked the court to give them custody of the small boy.

The mother of the boy testified that the home of her friend on Long avenue was a better place than her mother and father's farm. Several witnesses were called, among them a son and a son-in-law of the Assads and they testified similarly.

Friends of the Assads testified that the district in which the boy was kept was dangerous, traffic being heavy. They also testified that the farm of the Assads was a much better place for him to live.

Mrs. Assad said she was willing to raise the boy. Mr. Assad said he wanted his daughter to live there with her husband and son. Mrs. Assad said she thought she was a proper person to care for her daughter's boy as she had cared for eleven of her own.

After considering the case Judge Dickey awarded the custody of the small boy to his father, Sam Joseph, Sr., and the grandmother, Mrs. Mike Assad.

Among the court spectators Friday morning was Congressman Benjamin Jarrett, of Farrell, Pa., representing the 20th congressional district. He and Judge Dickey have been fast friends for many years.

"Conditions are hectic in Washington these days," said Congressman Jarrett. "The situation over-

ELWOOD, Ind., Aug. 3.—Alfred E. Smith, former Gov. George White of Ohio and a number of other nationally-prominent Democrats who have endorsed Wendell L. Willkie for president will be invited to attend notification ceremonies at Elwood, August 17, it was announced today.

The notification committee also announced that Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, who once worked as puddler in the Elwood tin plate mills, will head a delegation of 500 coming from the Keystone state in a special train.

To millions of Republicans over the nation, the committee today outlined briefly details of the notification program as follows:

Ceremony at high school steps, 2:15 p. m., CST.

Notification program begins at 3 p. m., CST, the exact time when the presidential nominee will speak has

Seventh Ward Minister To Be Heard Sunday At Camp
Fred Rentz

Rev. Milton E. Shearer, pastor of Madison Avenue Christian church, will speak at customary afternoon vesper service at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday, August 4, at 3 p. m.

That evening a candlelight service will be held.

Last night, motion pictures shown by John P. Boyles, member of the "Y" board of directors, entertained campers. The "Fireflies" are leading this week's exciting baseball league race. Jack Sweesy won boat races earlier in the week.

While Henry T. MacNicholas, assistant general secretary and camp head, is vacationing in Washington, D. C., General Secretary R. L. Meermans and William Winter, "Y" physical director, are managing camp.

Reds Lose Two To Boston Bees

Dodgers Drop To Cubs, Pirates Defeat Phils In Night Game In Ten Innings

By ED KIELY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Old man opportunity, that elusive gent who supposedly is to knock only once, has been making a number of return engagements in Brooklyn but each time the daffy Dodgers have given him the old heave-ho.

Yesterday the Reds dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the Boston Bees but the Flatbushers dropped a 4 to 3 decision to the Chicago Cubs. Instead of picking up a game-and-a-half, all the Dodgers gained was a half-game, that being handed to them on a silver-platter.

Larry French allowed Brooklyn two runs until he was relieved with one out in the ninth after putting the tying and winning runs on base. Claude Passeau, making his third appearance in four days, threw called strikes past Pete Reiser and Peeewe Reese to end the threatening rally and the game.

Apparently the usually stingy Bees were saving up all their energy for the current series with the league-leading Rhinelanders. For after dropping nine straight contests to an assortment of opposition, the Beantowners lashed out with the fury of a New England gale to sink Cincinnati, 10 to 3 in the opener and 4 to 3 in a 12-inning nightcap.

Cards-Giants Split

Meanwhile, New York and St. Louis divided a twin-bill, the Giants winning the first, 5 to 4, and the Cardinals the afterpiece, 3 to 1. Babe Young hit two homers in the opener, one coming in the ninth to break up a deadlock.

In a night clash Philadelphia, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Philadelphia 5 to 2 by a four run rally in the 10th inning.

In the American League, the league-leading Detroit Tigers were the victims of a 14-hit Boston Red Sox assault and dropped a see-saw, 12 to 9 affair. Three homers—one each by Don DiMaggio, Jimmy Fox and manager Joe Cronin—turned the tide in favor of Boston.

Yanks Trim Indians

The Cleveland Indians stayed a game in arrears of the pace-setters by losing a 10 to 2 battle to the New York Yankees. The Chicago White Sox kept a percentage point hold on fourth place by belting the Washington Senators, 10 to 2. Thornton Lee's two-hit hurling was the feature of this game.

The St. Louis Browns blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 0 when Bob Harris hurled the first shut-out by a Browns' pitcher this season. Included among the Browns' four hits was two homers, one by Walter Judnich, his 19th of the season, in the fourth inning, and the other by George McQuinn in the seventh.

Columbus Club Wins First-Half Title

The Columbus Club won the first half championship in the City Class B softball league last night at the Liberty Street Field by defeating the Booker T. Washington team 17 to 6.

The winning pitcher was Blackie Adamo. Steve Carson had five hits in five trips to the plate, his hits included a homer with two on, and a double and three singles. T. Compello also had five hits in five trips up.

GAME IS CALLED OFF

The Moose and Slovak game for Monday has been called off until Sunday by agreement of both managers. The Moose have a previously arranged game with the Niles, Ohio Moose team, at Niles. The Moose-Slovak game Monday will be at Clifton Flats Field.

Entirely too many of the boys who make life miserable for the Pitt football team are back to heckle the Panthers again this year. The list includes Blumenstock and Denney of Fordham, Francis and Rohrig of Nebraska, Mutha of Carnegie Tech, Gajek and Peters of Penn State, and Ruffa of Duke.

Pennsylvania is estimated to have lost $4,000,000 in less than two years, due to the killing of valuable hawks and owls, under unwise bounty laws.

HOT TOPS BOW TO ELLWOODIANS

Coming from behind with a brace of two runs after trailing two to one, Ellwood City continued to lead the Lawrence lead by beating the New Castle Hot Tops three to two, Friday, at New Galliee.

Ellwood City got nine hits off Boren while McCready pitched superbly and allowed only four hits. Umpire McIntyre was knocked out when hit by a pitched ball in the fourth and Umpire Price finished the game.

Fredhoff hit the lone triple while doubles went to J. Guzzetti, Wissner, Franas, Blazin and Ferrucci got a pair.

Public Linkers Here Tomorrow

Pittsburgh Aces Will Play Sylvan Heights Team Sunday Afternoon

Sylvan Heights players will have their hands full tomorrow, when the annual match with the Pittsburgh Public Links team will be played at Sylvan Heights course.

Heading the Pittsburghers, who will be chosen from the three Pittsburgh courses, Schenley, North Park and South Park, will be Joe Platt, supervisor for the United States Golf Association in the Western Pennsylvania area, and the team will include such greats as Andy Swedko, 1939 Public Links champion, his brother, Mike Swedko, also a top-notch; Johnny Pasikowski, Sam Musico, and practically all of the other players who represented Pittsburgh in the National Public Links tournament, besides a host of college stars and other greats of the Pittsburgh district.

Manager Walter S. Hart would like to have a few of the ex-caddies of the Sylvan Heights course report on Sunday to caddy for these matches.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Russell Baxter, this city's latest pugilistic amateur find, will strut his stuff again August 12 in the air-cooled Arena when he battles George Osman, a welterweight of Monaca. Baxter has been showing more than the usual display by a tyro and naturally local fandom wishes him well. Larry Retardo, Ellwood City, is now a full-fledged featherweight, having taken on weight and will tackle Bud Sullivan of Pittsburgh. Loop 'em Billy Reale, the Castlewood playboy, will swing with Carl Fowler of Pittsburgh and the tough, hard-socking ex-grinder, Benny Barile of Ellwood City will oppose George Saunders, who put up such a stirring fight with Milt Taylor. There'll be other fights, of course, but the foregoing will add a local flavor when the Neshannock township firemen sponsor the bouts to get money for fire-fighting equipment. Reservations are now being made and indications are almost everybody from Neshannock township will be present, according to reports.

Everett Marshall, wrestler, who appeared at Centennial field here, is now a California agriculturist. Several decades ago Billy (Shorty) Fessler was an assistant to Jimmie Dunn and seconded as many fights as did Jimmy. He was active in the days of Otto Koehler, Cal Delaney, Porter Root, et al., who with Johnny Kilbane were in Dunn's stable. Several years back Smith and Dygert were the connoisseurs of fight'ng boys. They didn't have any chuffs in their stable. They had Homer Gray. Recall Pop Eye Gibbons, Lefty Arnold and Romeo Paccelli?

Par took a beating in the $5,000 Milwaukee open golf tourney, Friday. Frank Moore, Detroit, turned in a 65 for a course where par is 71. Ed Oliver, Hornell, N. Y. and John Bulla, Chicago, each turned in 66's. . . . Dorothy Burdell, Santa Monica, Cal., beat Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, Mass., to enter finals of the Maudstone invitation net tourney at East Hampton, N. Y., Friday. She will play Gracy Wheeler, also Santa Monica, who eliminated Pauline Betz, San Francisco.

Beaten seven consecutive times, Frank Kovacs turned the tables on Bobby Riggs in the semi-finals of the annual Meadow club invitation tennis meet at Southampton, N. Y., yesterday, 6-4, 7-9, 6-4, 6-2. Kovacs off oppose Don McNeil, Oklahoma City, who defeated Elwood Cooke, Portland, Me., 6-0, 6-4, 6-1. The Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Bears will rush the football season in a game at Erie, August 30.

Waynesburg results: 2:15 pace, Rhythm took two of three heats, Nesco Hanover, winning the second. Two twenty two, Bobby Flash won the last two heats the first going to Thrace. For those who like polo, Alliance and Old Purnace will clash at 3 p. m. D. S. T. Sunday one mile from Zellenople on the Zellenople-Ellwood City road.

Sports World Ramblings

A bit of everything—If you crave comedy with your baseball, and who can't stand a good laugh now and then, hop into the family bus on Saturday, August 24, and hie to Elders field. You'll get a lot of guffaws as the Rieck old timers endeavor to match wits with the City league all-stars. The scenes promise to rival the good old Mack Sennett skits of the silent picture days.

The Rieck nine will include members of the championship team of 1922, 23 and 24. Paul McCullough, still toting the rubber, will fling for the Riecks. Tom McCormick will won't the catching paraphernalia. Frank "Jewie" Coen, who could double for Al Schacht anyway, will manage. Mickey Huff, Carl Reebel, "Cack" Gennoek, Earl Croud, Gerald Earl ar Ale Black will pitch in with the Riecks. The proceeds will go to the American Red Cross.

From the Seventh ward comes word that the piccatta boys, Al and Tony, are rarin' to go. Unusually talented gridgers, the Piccattas are in tip top shape following a busy summer. Al, who figures to carve himself a deep niche at John Carroll, scales 200 pounds. He is active in football, tennis, swimming and dances to boot. Tony, who held down the end post for Slippery Rock, is following the same conditioning schedule as his younger brother.

JOHNSON BRONZE TRIPS RADIATORS

Score Is 6 To 5 In Class A Softball Game, Sons Of Italy Defeat Willow Grove

The Johnson Bronze softball team won from the Radiators last night at Gaston Park Field in a Class A softball league game, it being the first defeat in six starts in the second half for the Rads. The score was 6 to 5. The winning hurler was Pezzone, the loser was Greg Ross.

The Bronze had one big inning, the second, when they punched over five runs, the Rads coming back with four in the third inning. The Rads tied it up in the fifth, but the Bronze untied it to win in the last of the seventh. Heavy hitting was done by—Hub Riley who also played a spectacular game in the field. Pulaski Bags 10th; Hillers Top Castles

Hitting Highlights Games Last Night; Civics Spill Harbor, 9-5

Hitting highlighted City-County Independent Baseball league games played Friday night.

At Pulaski, the West Side A. C. put up a stubborn fight before bowing to Pulaski, 11-5. Gentle, ace Pulaski tosser, was routed. In grabbing their 10th consecutive loop triumph and practically clinching the National league coronet, Pulaski was impressive. Dick Biddle had a good night, whacking two singles and a double. Hutchison added a triple to the winners' cause.

Famous Hawaiian Swimmer Married

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 3.—Duke Kahanamoku, 48, famous Hawaiian swimmer and one-time Olympic champion, and Nadine Alexander, former Murray school dancer of New York, were honeymooning today following a surprise wedding at Kailua.

Senator Francis H. Brown and Winona Love, former hula singer, were attendants at the ceremony which was solemnized in the ancient Kailua church on the Kona coast.

Brooklyn fans, should the Dodgers get in the world's series, probably will try a parachute blitzkrieg on the pint-sized park.

JUNEDALES WIN GAME

The Junedale girls softball team won a Girls League game Thursday night at Hickory Heights field from the West Pittsburg girls 10 to 9.

The winning hurler was Net Camille. Heavy hitting was done by Mary Pia who clouted two doubles and a single and by Helen Shultz of West Pittsburg who had four of the West Pittsburg's nine runs.

Reds Lose Two To Boston Bees

Dodgers Drop To Cubs, Pirates Defeat Phils In Night Game In Ten Innings

By ED KIELY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Old man opportunity, that elusive gent who supposedly is to knock only once, has been making a number of return engagements in Brooklyn but each time the daffy Dodgers have given him the old heave-ho.

Yesterday the Reds dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the Boston Bees but the Flatbushers dropped a 4 to 3 decision to the Chicago Cubs instead of picking up a game-and-a-half, the Dodgers gained was a half-game, that being handed to them on a silver-platter.

Larry French allowed Brooklyn two runs until he was relieved with one out in the ninth after putting the tying and winning runs on base. Claude Passeau, making his third appearance in four days, threw called strikes past Pete Reiser and Pee-wee Reese to end the threatening rally and the game.

Apparently the usually stingless Bees were saving up all their energy for the current series with the league-leading Rhinelanders. For after dropping nine straight contests to an assortment of opposition, the Beantowners lashed out with the fury of a New England gale to sink Cincinnati, 10 to 3 in the opener and 4 to 3 in a 12-inning nightcap.

Care's Giants Split

Meanwhile, New York and St. Louis divided a twin-bill, the Giants winning the first, 5 to 4, and the Cardinals the afterpiece, 3 to 1. Babe Young hit two homers in the opener, one coming in the ninth to break up a deadlock.

In a night clash at Philadelphia, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Philadelphia 5 to 2 by a four run rally in the 10th inning.

In the American League, the league-leading Detroit Tigers were the victims of a 14-hit Boston Red Sox assault and dropped a see-saw, 12 to 9 affair.

Three homers—Gene Dorn, Jimmie Foxx and manager Joe Cronin—turned the tide in favor of Boston.

Yanks Trim Indians

The Cleveland Indians stayed a game in arrears of the pace-setters by losing a 10 to 2 battle to the New York Yankees. The Chicago White Sox kept a percentage point held on fourth place by beating the Washington Senators, 10 to 2. Thornton Lee's two-hit hurling was the feature of this game.

The St. Louis Browns blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 0 when Bob Harris hurled the first shut-out by a Browns' pitcher this season. Included among the Browns' four hits was two homers, one by Walter Judnich, his 19th of the season, in the fourth inning, and the other by George McQuinn in the seventh.

Columbus Club Wins First-Half Title

The Columbus Club won the first half championship in the City Class B softball league last night at the Liberty Street Field by defeating the Booker T. Washington team 17 to 6.

The winning pitcher was Blackie Adams. Steve Carson had five hits in five trips to the plate, his hits included a homer with two on, and a double and three singles. T. Connelly also had five hits in five times up.

GAME IS CALLED OFF

The Moose and Slovak game for Sunday has been called off until Monday by agreement of both managers. The Moose have a previously arranged game with the Niles, Ohio Moose team at Niles. The Moose-Slovak game Monday will be at Clifton Flats Field.

Entirely too many of the boys who made life miserable for the Pitt football team are back to heckle the Panthers again this year. The list includes Blumensack and Denney of Zerkham, Francis and Rohrig of Nebraska, Muha of Carnegie Tech, Gajek and Peters of Penn State, and Ruffa of Duke.

Pennsylvania is estimated to have lost $4,000,000 in less than two years, due to the killing of valuable hawks and owls, under unwise bounty laws.

HOT TOPS BOW TO ELLWOODIANS

Coming from behind with a brace of two runs after trailing two to one, Ellwood City continued to lead the Lawrence loop by beating the New Castle Hot Tops three to two, Friday, at New Galilee.

Ellwood City got nine hits off Boren, while McCreedy pitched superbly and allowed only four hits. Umpire McIntyre was knocked out when hit by a pitched ball in the fourth and Umpire Price finished the game.

Drednoff hit the lone triple while doubles went to J. Guzzetti, Wisner, Franas, Blazin and Ferrucci got a pair.

Public Linkers Here Tomorrow

Pittsburgh Aces Will Play Sylvan Heights Team Sunday Afternoon

Sylvan Heights players will have their hands full tomorrow, when the annual match with the Pittsburgh Public Links team will be played at Sylvan Heights course.

Heading the Pittsburghers, who will be chosen from the three Pittsburgh courses, Schenley, North Park and South Park, will be Joe Platt, supervisor for the United States Golf Association in the Western Pennsylvania area, and the team will include such greats as Andy Swacko, 1939 Public Links champion, and his brother, Mike Swacko, also a top-notch; Johnny Paszkowski, Sam Musico, and practically all of the other players who represented Pittsburgh in the National Public Links tournament, besides a host of college stars and other greats of the Pittsburgh district.

Manager Walter S. Hart would like to have a few of the ex-caddies of the Sylvan Heights course report on Sunday to caddy for these matches.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Russell Baxter, this city's latest public amateur find, will strut his stuff again August 12 in the air-cooled Arena when he battles George Oaxman, a welterweight of Monaca, Baxter has been showing more than the usual display by a tyro and naturally local fanboys wish him well. Larry Retardo, Ellwood City's now a full-fledged featherweight, having taken on weight and will tackle Bud Sullivan of Pittsburgh. Tom 'em Billy Reale, the Castlewood play-boy, will swing with Carl Fowler of Pittsburgh and the rough, hard-socking ex-grinder, Benny Bartle of Ellwood City will oppose Grey Saunders, who put up such a stirring fight with Milt Taylor. There'll be other fights, of course, but the foregoing will add a local flavor when the Neshannock township firemen sponsor the bouts to get money for fire-fighting equipment. Reservations are now being made, and indications are almost everybody from Neshannock township will be present, according to reports.

Everett Marshall, wrestler, who appeared at Centennial field here, is now a California agriculturalist. Several decades ago Billy (Shorty) Fessler was an assistant to Jimmie Dunn and seconded as many fighters as did Jimmie. He was active in the days of Otto Koehler, Oal Delaney, Porter Root, et al, who with Johnny Kilbane were in Dunn's stable. Several years back Smith & Dygett were the connoisseurs of fighting boys. They didn't have any chuffs in their stable. They had Homer Gray. Recall Pop Eye Gibson, Lefty Arnold and Romeo Pucelli?

Far look a beating in the $5,000 Milwaukee open golf tourney, Friday. Frank Moore, Detroit, turned in a 65 for a course where par is 71. Ed Oliver, Hornell, N. Y., and John Bulla, Chicago, each turned in 66's. Dorothy Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal., beat Sarah Paley, Brookline, Mass., to enter finals of the Maudslowe invitation net tourney at East Hampton, N. Y., Friday. She will play Gracy Wheeler, also Santa Monica, who eliminated Pauline Betz, San Francisco.

Benton seven consecutive times, Frank Kovacs turned the tables on Bobby Riggs in the semi-finals of the annual Meadow club invitation tennis meet at Southampton, N. Y., yesterday, 6-4, 7-9, 6-4, 6-2. Kovacs will oppose Don McNeil, Oklahoma City, who defeated Ellwood Cooke, Portland, Me., 6-0, 6-4, 6-1. Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Bears will rustle the football season in a game at Erie, August 30.

Waynesburg results: 2:15 pace, Rescho took two of three heats, Neeson Hanover, winning the second. Two twenty brot, Bobby Flagg won the last two heats the first going to Thence. For those who like polo, Alliance and Old Furnace will clash at 3 p. m. D. S. T. Sunday one mile from Zellenopie on the Zellenopie-Ellwood City road.

Sports World Ramblings

A bit of everything—If you crave comedy with your baseball, and who can't stand a good laugh now and then, hop into the family bus on Saturday, August 24, and hit to Elders field. You'll get a lot of guffaws as the Rick-o-old timers endeavor to match wits with the City league all-stars. The scenes promise to rival the good old Mack Seneca skits of the short picture days.

The Rick-o-old will include members of the championship team of 1922, 23 and 24. Paul McCullough, still toting the rubber, will carry for the Rick-o-olds. Tom McCormick will win the catching paraphernalia. Frank "Jewie" Coen, who could double for Al Schacht anyway, will manage. Mickey Huff, Carl Reibel, "Cockey" Genrock, Earl Crowl, Gerald Earl and Al Black will pitch in with the Rick-o-olds. The proceeds will go to the American Red Cross.

From the Seventh ward comes word that the picnics boys, Al and Tony, are rarin' to go. Unusually talented gridlers, the Picnics are in tip top shape following a busy summer. Al, who figures to carry him a deep niche at John Carroll, scales 200 pounds. He is active in softball, tennis, swimming and dances to boot. Tony, who held down the end post for Slippery Rock, is following the same conditioning schedule as his younger brother.

BALLA PITCHES THREE-HIT GAME

James "Shimmy" Balla on the hill for the Slovaks last night held the heavy hitting Croton team to three hits as his mates pounded Orelli for one run to win 4 to 1 in a City league game.

Balla besides hurling a fine game drove in one of the Slovak runs. Extra-base hits were made by—Orrelli, Melahie and Grossetti. Balla fanned nine batters.

It was the second win of the half for the Slovaks against four defeats. The game Sunday with the Moose has been postponed until a later date.

Pulaski Bags 10th; Hillers Top Castles

Hitting Highlights Games Last Night; Civics Spill Harbor, 9-5

Hitting highlighted City-County Independent Baseball league games played Friday night.

At Pulaski, the West Side A. O. put up a stubborn fight before bowing to Pulaski, 11-5. Gentle, ace Pulaski tosser, was routed. In grabbing their 10th consecutive loop triumph and practically clinching the league coronation, Pulaski was impressive. Dick Biddle had a good night, whacking two singles and a double. Hutchison added a triple to the winners' cause.

Score by innings:—R. H. E.
Pulaski052 31—11 11 2
West Side032 000—5 6 6
Batteries—Pulaski, Gentle, Patton and Hutchison; West Side, Pyle, Night and Via.

HILLERS TOP CASTLES

South Hills kept right at the heels of the South Side Board of Trade American league honors by dominating Castlewood, 12-6, at South Hills.

The Hillers leathered the offerings of Bob King and Kruck for 13 hits of all descriptions. Parrott took the heart out of the Castles by parking a homer with the bags clogged. Palerino poked a circuit wallop for the winners while J. Newton did likewise for the Castles.

P. Bulisco and Brooks, who gathered three hits out of four trips to the platter in the previous game, duplicated the feat last night.

Score by innings:—R. H. E.
Castlewood000 030 1—6 6 2
S. Hills424 110—12 13 3
Batteries—Castlewood, King, Kruck and Houk; S. Hills, Frenkel and P. Bulisco.

CIVICS SPANK HARBOR

With J. Magusak spearheading the attack, the Union Civics rolled over Harbor, 9-5.

The Civics decided matters in the sixth by pushing across a half dozen markers. T. Delone and Johnson dropped two hits apiece for the winners. Magusak smashed two homers.

Score by innings:—R. H. E.
Harbor002 100—2 7 0
Civics200 106—9 10 1
Batteries—Harbor, Cifra and Corben; Civics, Mrozek and Johnson.

MEET ON MONDAY

American league managers are requested to attend an important meeting on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at 112 West Washington street. Managers unable to attend should send a representative.

MEDUSA FALLS TO BESSEMER, 7-3

Bessemer displayed some of their first-half hitting yesterday at Bessemer and Medusa of Wampum was humbled, 7 to 3. The game found 19 hits sailing to various parts, with Bessemer getting 11. Updegraph went the limit on the hill for the victors. Powell relieved Herbert on the White Sox mound. Anderson and Powell were the triple-base clouters. Hrvatine hit two doubles.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEKALL

We find upon entering our office this morning, a pile of letters from folks who wish to give a dog away... these dogs are absolutely free and carry no guarantee whatsoever... we in no way want to compete with those who make a business of selling dogs. Inquire at 210 County Line street for a small fox terrier dog about six months old. White with brown spots. Child's pet. Mrs. Agnes Simpson, 220 South Wayne St.—Fox terrier. This dog came to this home. They already have a dog and wish to give this one to a child who can't afford to buy one.

Mrs. James Campbell, 513 Young St.—A black and white "just" dog, 4½ months old; female. Should make a nice little dog. Laura Dugan, 312 North Cascade St.—Seven pups and mother dog; 4 male and 3 female. These dogs are part fox terrier.

From time to time you have read or heard about what every motorist should do when they hear a fire truck coming down the street. It seems that some people don't believe in pulling to the curb. We suggest a fine for those who disobey this ruling... we must make way for fire trucks.

Next week the Greater New Castle Fair will hold forth. From the reports we have received from the fair committee it looks like a big time. A good midway show will be in progress, as well as a revue for those who sit in the grandstand. Good races, with probably some local horses and cattle from all the leading farms of Lawrence county... why not plan on attending this fair?

Some people must have faith in the future of New Castle... look around and see the new houses and business places that have been built within the last year. People of this day and age are not sinking money into these things unless they feel sure of a fair return. We are slowly but surely climbing out of the hole... but it's everybody's job to help... we cannot be defeated if we all have the desire to progress.

Remember, folks, drive very carefully this week-end.

JUNEDALES WIN GAME

The Junedale girls softball team won a Girls League game Thursday night at Hickory Heights field from the West Pittsburg girls 10 to 9. The winning hurler was Nellie Camille. Heavy hitting was done by Mary Pia who clouted two doubles and a single and by Helen Shultz of West Pittsburg who had four of the West Pittsburg's nine runs.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The stock market wound up the week today on a colorless note and with activity abnormally low.

Prices were trendless from the start. Enough scattered selling and buying-up for the week-end developed during the brief session to send a number of leaders lower but the changes were insignificant.

Turnover in the first hour was only 60,000 shares, indicating little more than 100,000 shares for the two hours.

B. M. T. stood out in the list at the start by opening on a block of 3,000 shares at a fractional advance. It succumbed to the general lethargy later, however.

Steel shares and motors were inclined to sag. Bethlehem was higher at the start but slipped later. Chrysler and General Motors were down fractionally.

Texas Corp., weak in the oils in the last two days, came back fractionally.

Aviations were steady to somewhat higher. Chemicals slipped. American Telephone gave ground. Eastman Kodak rose a point.

Rails and utilities were mixed and very quiet.

Knox Classes
Enjoy Wiener
Roast Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Gathering last evening at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Elmer Moyer of the Knox-Zellenople road, members of the Adult Bible classes of the Knox Presbyterian church enjoyed an informal evening.

About twenty members attended and spent the evening playing various games on the lawn. A wiener roast about a glowing bonfire concluded the evening.

Members were invited to meet again on Friday evening, September 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yahn of the Zellenople road. Officers will be elected at that time.

Miss Marie Kashner
Is Hostess To Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Miss Marie Kashner pleasantly entertained members of the Willing Workers class of the Wurtemberg Methodist church at her home, in Wurtemberg, last evening for the August meeting.

Miss Lucille Braby, of New Castle, was a special guest.

Opening devotions were led by the teacher, Mrs. Arthur Lutton and during the meeting plans were made to hold a wiener roast at Ewing Park on the first Thursday of September. Arrangements will be in charge of Mrs. Fanchon Hazen, Mrs. Virginia Fox and Mrs. Delphine Horton.

After an informal social hour, the hostess was aided in serving a tempting lunch featuring green apple compiments by her mother, Mrs. Van Kashner.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will meet on Monday evening at the hall, in Fourth street.

UNION AUXILIARY
PLANS CORN ROAST

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Last evening members of the Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary gathered in the Fourth street V. F. W. hall for the regular meeting.

Mrs. Iva Forsythe presided and it was decided to postpone a bingo party planned for next Friday.

It was decided to hold the next meeting on Friday, August 16, in the form of a corn roast at the hall.

Ray Miller, Jr.
Is Tennis Champ

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Ray Miller, Jr., won the boys' playground tennis tournament by defeating Frank DeNoma, Herbert Krause and Dick Downing in a round-robin series at the Ewing Park courts.

Miller defeated Krause 6-1, 6-3, overcame Downing 6-2, 6-2, and took a three-set match from DeNoma 2-6, 6-1 and 6-2.

A handsome sun-gold trophy will be awarded to the new city champ. All four of the finalists received a dollar cash prize.

DeNoma placed second in the finals with Krause and Downing coming in third and fourth.

Next week's project will feature the girls' tennis tournament. All girls wishing to enter should sign up at the Ewing Park play spot by next Wednesday.

NOTICE
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—During the coming week, Fay Cowan will be on vacation. News items may be phoned as usual to her home, 665, where they will be taken by Miss Elizabeth Gough. Items may also be left at the Ellwood News company, Lawrence avenue.

JUNIOR SOCIETY
ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—A meeting of the Junior Missionary society of the Wurtemberg Methodist church has been postponed and will be held in the form of a picnic at Ewing Park, on Thursday, August 29.

McCoy-Miller
Marriage News

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—On Tuesday afternoon, July 30, at 2 o'clock, Miss Helen McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCoy of Alliquipp, Pa., was united in marriage to Harold A. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Miller, of the Ellwood-Portersville road.

The single ring ceremony was used with the Rev. Alvin Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of Winchester, Pa., officiating at his home in that city.

Immediately after the ceremony, they left on a southern wedding trip to the Shenandoah Valley and other interesting points.

Returning home they will reside at the bridegroom's home until their new home, which is being erected on the Ellwood-Portersville road, is completed.

The bride is a graduate of the Chester, W. Va., high school. Mr. Miller is an employee of the National Tube Company.

Ellport-Legion
Teams Deadlock

Score Tied At 5-all For Second Time This Season In League Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—The Ellport Red Sox and Legion nines of the American Legion Junior League played to a deadlock for the second time this year in the first meeting of the two rivals.

The Ellporters took a 7 to 1 victory, but in their last two meetings, the second-half league leaders have been hard pressed to tie the cellar occupying Legionnaires. Two weeks ago, the Red Sox were forced to come from behind to gain a 3-3 draw and last night they spotted the Legion nine a 5-run lead in the first, then fought back to a 5-5 tie.

The game featured a pitching duel, Wright holding the Legion to five safeties, one less than Forbush yielded to the Red Sox. Besides his hurling feat, Forbush collected three of his team's five singles. The fielding gem of the game was turned in by Miller in the third, when he caught Lazzer's liner and doubled Alce off third to end a scoring threat that would have given the Legion the game.

Dr. R. W. Frishkorn
Dies In Washington

Former Local Resident Passes Away Following Illness Caused By Heart Condition

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Dr. R. W. Frishkorn, prominent Washington, D. C., physician for many years, passed away last evening at 3 o'clock at the "Providence" hospital of that place. He had been ill for the past three weeks suffering from a heart condition.

A son of the late Alice and E. S. Frishkorn, he was born and raised in Perry township, Lawrence county. He graduated from the Ellwood high school and Grove City College and completed his medical course at the George Washington Medical College in the District of Columbia, where he practiced his profession.

Dr. Frishkorn was a veteran of the Spanish-American war having been associated with the hospital corps. A member of the Masonic Lodge, he was also a most active worker in the Presbyterian church of Washington. He was gifted with an unusual vocal and instrumental musical talent and contributed his services freely to a great many causes and organizations.

He was married to Ollie Wilson, of Dover, Del., who survives him as do two sons, Paul, of Detroit; and Ralph, of Baltimore; and one daughter, Mrs. Howard Kyler, of Philadelphia. Five brothers, John, E. S., Charles and George, all of Detroit, and William of Wurtemberg and three sisters, Mrs. L. E. Smith, of New Castle, Mrs. Bert Wall, of Detroit, and Miss Anna Frishkorn, of Wurtemberg, also survive.

Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon from the late residence with interment to be made at Dover, Del.

Merrytime Club
At Melzer Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Mary Melzer opened her home, in Wayne avenue, in a hospitable manner last evening to members of the Merrytime club, who gathered for the bi-weekly session.

Cards were played at two tables for several hours with the nice prizes going to Mrs. Anna Chappelle, Mrs. Mabel McLaughlin and Mrs. Mary Thelma. Mrs. Elsie Melzer aided the hostess in serving cooling refreshments.

Friday, August 16, marks the date of the next meeting with the place to be decided.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. King and sons, Gene and Jerry, of Ewing Park, left today on a motor trip to Virginia and other southern states. They will visit with the former's brother at Johnson City, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Cowan and son, Jerry, of the Wurtemberg road, left today for St. Louis, Mo., where they will be guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Jack Rodgers. They will also visit another sister, Mrs. George Woodin, of Waynesville, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Porter, of Fifth street, are visiting with the former's sister, Mrs. Hershel Jones, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Goodwill, of Akron, O., will be guests tomorrow in this city. The former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Maxwell, of First avenue, will return home with them for a week's visit.

Tammany Hall Stand
Problem For Flynn

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Tammany Hall's real attitude toward Edward J. Flynn, new chairman of the Democratic national committee, today figured to have an important bearing on whether President Roosevelt can carry New York state, with its 47 electoral votes, in the November election.

Flynn and "The Hall" haven't clicked for years.

So, when "Ed" Flynn on August 17 takes over "Jim" Farley's job of running Mr. Roosevelt's third term campaign, one of the tasks confronting him will be the appeasement of Tammany. It's not going to be an easy task.

For the past seven and one-half years Flynn, as national committeeman from New York and Democratic boss of the Bronx, has been federal patronage dispenser in this area. He always managed to please Tammany in distributing political plums. Tammany does not easily forget.

Tammany also holds Flynn responsible for the election of the Fusionist Mayor F. H. LaGuardia in 1933 and again in 1937. It was Mr. Roosevelt's close friend, Flynn, who in 1933 sent Joseph V. McKee into the mayoralty race, producing a three-cornered contest that beat the Tammany candidate and permitted LaGuardia to win.

Although Tammany leaders were saying today that Flynn's choice as national chairman was "a splendid selection", the general feeling in informed political circles is that they had their fingers crossed.

If Roosevelt is to win his own state this year over Wendell L. Willkie, also a New Yorker, he will have to gain a majority of well over 500,000 votes in New York City, in the opinion of political sharps. That is where Tammany fits into the picture. For although Tammany's political fortunes have been running low for years, the wigwag organization still is an important factor in city politics.

Flynn is considered to be an astute and capable political strategist. He started in political life years ago as one of the "brightest young men" of the late Charles F. Murphy, long a Tammany leader.

Flynn, early in his career, formed a close friendship with Roosevelt. He long has been a warm "Roosevelt" man. Apparently much of Flynn's income has come from the law firm of Goldwater & Flynn.

It is understood that Flynn accepted the national chairmanship only because of his friendship with Roosevelt. Flynn's health has not been any too good the past year or more. He now is almost 49.

Mass Scouting Demonstration Planned At Fair

Close To 1,000 Boy Scouts And Leaders Will Present Work Pageant

FRIDAY IS DAY SET FOR PROGRAM

Greatest mass demonstration of Boy Scouts and Scouters in the history of the Lawrence County. Boy Scout Council, is being planned for Friday, August 9, at the Lawrence County Fair.

Close to 1,000 scouts and leaders will take over the grandstand arena for a pageant, demonstrating the work and activities of local Boy Scouts. Every troop in the district will have a part in the big program, and visitors to the fair will see something that will be hard to equal in the old home town.

Headlining the opening program will be a gala parade of council members, the executive board, cubs and Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts, Sea Scouts and the Ellwood City Emergency Squad. At exactly 4:30 p. m., assembly will be blown by a bugler, the band will move onto the track and the grand entry will be on!

From then on something will be doing every minute of the afternoon, exhibiting a massed flag exhibit, lower building, firebuilding, rescue work and many other features of the Boy Scout program.

For weeks the boys their scoutmasters and entire troops have been working hard, ironing out the many parts of their acts to have them fault free on Friday afternoon. This is the biggest job the local council has yet undertaken, but T. D. Jones, general chairman believes that with full cooperation on the part of each and everyone taking part, the pageant will be the biggest success yet!

Sees Great Change Here In 31 Years

Former Resident Back From West, Impressed At City's Development

"New Castle has grown just like a bad weed and now stretches almost unbelievably in all directions, with the newest in modern buildings and lovely homes. It's really fascinating!" says Mrs. Charles Hutchman, who with her daughter, Mary Edith, are now visiting in the vicinity from Tawnee, Neb., for the first time in 31 years.

The former New Castleite, who was born Margaret McClelland, a member of the David McClelland family, of Scotland Lane, was much enthused as she related how much the vicinity of the western side of town has grown and spread. While living here, the Oakwood section along the New Bedford road and what is part of Union Township, boasted only a scattering of farm houses and the avenues and streets of West Washington street extension were, only in a few rare cases being laid out and in the majority of instances, were only cow paths.

Down town districts hold quite an attraction for Mrs. Hutchman as the appearance of so many new business establishments and up-to-the-minute modern buildings are quite a change from the former quiet and smaller buildings which graced East Washington street and Mill street in past years.

Mrs. Hutchman is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George McClelland, of South Pine street, and will visit with various other friends and relatives before the conclusion of her visit.

Camp East Brook Chatter

With a heavy week's schedule the East Brook reporter was inconvenienced in writing. On Monday the campers took over the reigns of the camp, with Helen Hayes as Director, Dorothy Eleanor Wallace as Miss Emma, nurse; Nancy Ruth as Miss Margaret, swimming; Mary Shuttlesworth as Miss Louise, swimming; Phyllis Barry as Miss Marie, music; Lois Leach as Miss Ruth, pianist; Dorothy Pitzer as Miss Cornell, dancing; Dottie Wallace as Miss Kay, nature; Patty Kradle as Miss Anne, crafts; and Frankie Davis as Miss Marjorie, dramatics. No true counselor was allowed near the office, and had to obey all regular camp rules. In the evening an over-night hike had been planned, but, because of heavy rains in the afternoon, the plans were postponed.

Tuesday brought the costume ball. With a great variety of countries represented the ball was indeed international. Although a few of the girls sang and danced their countries' favorites, and represented Indians, Germans, and Japanese, it was decided that, in being a native of more than one country, they were more diplomatic.

The long-anticipated over-night hike "happened" Wednesday. "To happen" was the theme song, for everything from a beautiful campfire sing to sliding down a natural cliff slide. Twenty-six girls carried blanket rolls to Eckle's cabin atop a high hill nearly one mile from Camp East Brook. In the lazy evening gathering round the campfire each girl named her favorite song, then the entire group joined in to dreamily chant the melodies. Bedtime had no restrictions, and much hilarity prevailed for a while. Frankie Davis belted by the light of the moon, while Jane Lee and Lois Leach made over their snuggly-in-and-out-again beds at least four times. A dozen falling stars added to the perfect evening, as the girls slept, pivot-fashion, with their heads toward the center of the circle. At toward the end of the night, in time to see a new sliver of a moon hang low in the sky, guarded by five bright twinkling stars nearby, the only stars yet in the heavens. Miss Marie entertained herself by tickling ants stomachs, the ants having lounged on a crumb of bread nearby. Phyllis Barry was eating Caddie Wallace's hair when she awakened. She claimed she was dreaming of Shredded Wheat. After cooking a breakfast of omelet, bacon, toast, and cocoa, the girls tied up their packs in preparation to leave. However, as a last good-bye, they went to a close steep-grade hill to hang their feet over and enjoy a few minutes' rest. Phyllis Barry was dared to slide down the natural chute. Attired in overalls, a floppy Joe, and love for fun, she took up the challenge, and bumped her way down as far as a huge stump half-way down. As she attempted to climb up, she slipped again and again. Finally she almost touched the top ledge. Her sailor hat somersaulted down the hill and she tumbled after it. Amid shouts of uncontrollable laughter, Helen Hayes determined to rescue her pal. She lost her balance, and they both departed for the bottom. Over and over the procedure continued, until the girls watching were weak with the funnier-than-Laurel-and-Hardy-comic feature. Roots gave

First Comptroller General Is Dead

J. H. McCarl, 61, Dies Of Heart Attack, Served Under Four Presidents

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — Arrangements for the funeral of J. H. McCarl, first comptroller general of the United States and known for 15 years as "the watchdog of the treasury," are to be made today.

McCarl, who was 61, and who served under four presidents, died of a heart attack at his Washington office yesterday. He retired in 1936, after a full 15-year term as comptroller general, during which he was in frequent dispute with federal officials over expenditures that he believed unauthorized.

Only day before yesterday President Roosevelt nominated Rep. Lindsay Warren (D., N. C.) to become comptroller general, after former Sen. Fred H. Brown, who succeeded McCarl, was forced to retire by ill health.

Germany Claims 350 Planes Shot Down In Month

(International News Service) BERLIN, Aug. 3. — Germany's air force during the month of July shot down 350 British planes, according to an official announcement issued today.

During the same month 260,000 tons of merchant ships were sunk and 25,000 tons of warships also were sent to the bottom, including one cruiser of 10,000 tons, one auxiliary cruiser of 7,000 tons, two destroyers, three submarines and three patrol boats, it was claimed.

The statement added that a total of 350,000 tons of merchant vessels and 55,000 tons of warships were badly damaged during the same period, including four cruisers, eight destroyers and four patrol boats and mine layers.

Church Sodality Plans For Picnic

Committees Chosen For Second Annual Outing Of St. Joseph's Sodality

Plans and arrangements are underway for the second annual outing of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church, which will be held on Sunday, August 11, at a meeting held Friday evening at the club rooms. The following committees were chosen for the event: Mary Elizabeth Schweikert, Loretta Flegger, Margaret Barlett, Josephine Ross, Betty Smolinski and Virginia Mitchell.

Various reports were heard from the chairman: Pauline Peluso, chairlady of Our Lady's committee, who extended an invitation to the sodality members to attend the retreat to be held at Villa Marie, at New Bedford, on Sunday, August 25. Announcement was made that the group would receive holy communion at the 9:30 o'clock mass on Sunday, August 4. Mary Costello, co-chairman of the dance, gave a favorable report of the event, which was held recently at the Sylvan Heights Country club. Mary Elizabeth Schweikert gave the monthly report of the club's standing. On Tuesday, August 6, the glee club will meet for a rehearsal and social hour, according to the chairman, Charlotte Leonardo.

President, Elizabeth Sansoni, had charge, and the Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra, guest of the evening, made a brief address, after which Father closed the meeting with prayer.

Six Thousand Use Park Pool In Past Week

During this week, over 6,000 persons availed themselves of the use of the pool at Gasco Park. Last Sunday, 1056 swimmers enjoyed themselves during the day. On Monday, which was "Kiddies Day" 1150 attended the pool, and were constant customers of the "Dodge 'em" and "Merry go round." Next Monday, it is expected there will be another large attendance during "Kiddies Day," as the interest in these amusements are ever increasing. Parents are planning to take the children for a day's outing, Sunday school teachers are arranging to take their classes for a picnic, during the hours when special rates have been made by the park commission for those under fourteen years of age, 3 cents for each of the amusements, between 12:30 and 3:00 p. m., which also includes a ride in the yacht, around the lake.

Superintendent Coulthard states that the grove, with its tables and splendid kitchen and equipment, are also available on Monday, for the serving of meals.

Those folks desiring reservations for picnics and outings, at the park, should consult Mr. Coulthard at once, as they are being filled up fast. During the past week, the grove has been filled to capacity every day.

W. P. A. Orchestra Will Present Concert On Lodge Grounds On Tuesday Evening

Associates of the Sons of Italy lodge will hear the WPA orchestra on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when they present a concert on the Sons of Italy lodge grounds, South

Mill street. Ben Shulansky is the director of the orchestra.

New members were welcomed into the organization, and later a favorable report was given by the financial secretary, Jerry Frasso, who reports that the annual picnic held at Lakewood recently was one of the most successful sponsored by the lodge.

An interesting talk was heard from the president, Samuel Bassano, who spoke on the welfare of the club.

The next meeting will be held on Sunday, August 18, at 2:30 o'clock.
